

Jacob Butt

Age 12

February 11, 2000 -

Jacob was an amazing boy with a sense of care and compassion that was well beyond his 12 years. If someone was hurt or upset Jacob would be there beside them, with his arm around their shoulders, offering them support in any way he could. When people tell us what they remember about Jacob, they always mention his huge smile, his amazing hugs and how he always volunteered to help. Jacob was naïve, for his age. He took people at their word and often didn't "get" jokes or sarcasm. He was incredibly good at, and loved Math, and he hated to read, but he loved to run, bowl, camp and climb trees.. He spent as much time as he could with his cousins, whom he adored. Jacob loved his family. Jacob loved life.
