Vince loved to live life to the fullest and to go out of his way to help others. He enjoyed fishing , biking , trying to problem solve or fix anything that needed repaired. He would help his grandparent at any moment with any repairs or jobs (he was their lil Jack of all trades) . He was very mechanically inclined and loved to learn to see how things worked and try to make it better.

He would always say this after I told him that it wasn't a good idea to try something that I have tried before and didn't turn out well. He told me, "In order to live life by the fullest you need to explore all your options and at least try it for yourself and to learn by your mistakes to grow stronger."

I wish I only knew about this game or any signs of it being played. I miss his smirk, smile, voice, laughing and him attempting to try and sing scream- or any Song.
