

Brian Patrick Tumblison

Age 13

February 16, 1998 -

April 27, 2011

Powell, Ohio

Brian was the center of our lives. He somehow connected with everyone at all ages, in all aspects of life. He had countless friends, and his family adored him. Brian could make you laugh about almost anything, and was definitely the guy you would want to spend time with. Brian was involved in many activities and groups, but he loved lacrosse and football. His dream was to play football for the Ohio State University. Most of all, Brian loved Jesus. For that reason, I know that he is safe in the arms of his heavenly Father.

This tragedy could not have shocked us more. We had never even heard of the Choking Game! This "game" has caused our world to lose so much. We will never stop missing our sweet Brian.
