

WHO WE ARE.

Friends of the Earth Brisbane (FoEB) is a non-hierarchical, volunteer-run organisation that operates on a consensus decision-making model. Since 1999, FoEB has played a driving role in building a radical social change movement.

We currently have three active campaigns that combine our desire for environmental protection with a social justice outlook.

FoEB is a member of Friends of the Earth Australia, and Friends of the Earth International.

OUR PERSPECTIVE.

FoEB has a unique view on social change; we believe it takes both proactive and reactive campaigning to deliver real outcomes. To us, it makes sense to integrate the two, while we are saying 'no' to something we also say 'yes' to something else.

We believe that social justice and ecological sustainability are fundamentally linked and the problems we face are the result of underlying systemic dysfunctions.

We believe that only through a well resourced and passionate grassroots organisation will the protection of our natural environment and the creation of a socially just society be realised.

OUR VISION.

Friends of the Earth Brisbane is a community based social change cooperative working on local, regional, national and international issues. We are working towards the creation of an ecologically sustainable and socially just society through community action.

VOLUNTEER.

FoEB's work for the environment and social justice takes many forms - from researching and letter writing to talking with politicians and taking nonviolent direct action. We are a volunteer run organisation and love new hands to help out on our campaigns and around the office.

DONATE.

We run big campaigns on little budgets. We rely on generous donations to help us in our fight for a just society and ecologically diverse future. Regular monthly donors allow us to plan ahead and keep administration costs to a minimum.

FRIENDS OF THE EARTH BRISBANE

MOBILISE. RESIST. TRANSFORM

CLIMATE FRONTLINES

The Climate Frontlines team examines the human rights perspective of what has mostly been a debate focused on carbon emissions. The emissions of the wealthy, industrialised countries are far in excess of poorer countries, Australia must take responsibility for its climate debt.

The collective works with Pacific Island communities to bring the reality of the frontlines of climate change to Australians. Its efforts are dedicated to raising awareness of the social and environmental impacts of climate change that our Pacific Island Neighbours are currently feeling.

The collective collaborates closely with the group Friends of Tulele Peisa to raise support, awareness and funds for the relocation and resettlement of Carteret people from their homes to Bougainville.

For more information, please contact Wendy Flannery: wendy.flannery@foe.org.au

PACE

The Peace, Anti-nuclear and Clean Energy collective is working for a more peaceful world beyond the nuclear cycle and the military complex.

PACE play a key role organising the biannual Peace Convergence against the US-Australia war games in Shoalwater Bay and support action against the ongoing US militarisation of our region.

PACE lead the anti-food irradiation campaign, opposing the irradiation of fruits and vegetables in Queensland and responding to calls to phase out the labelling of irradiated foods.

The collective have actively spoken out against nuclear issues and campaigned to oppose uranium mining in Queensland.

SIX DEGREES

The Six Degrees coal, coal seam gas and climate change collective is working with communities and groups across Queensland to reduce our dependence on the coal industry and to stop the expansion of the coal seam gas industry.

We are committed to addressing the root causes of climate change. We believe that broad-based community action is necessary to exert the political pressure needed to break the bond between the coal industry and the State Government.

In 2013, the collective will continue to support directly affected communities across Queensland as well as working to raise awareness in Brisbane.
