

A Short Guide to Sloan Canyon Trails by Friends of Sloan Canyon

Seven Sloan Access Points

To 45 miles of BLM constructed trails and 16 miles of City of Henderson constructed trails (see reverse side)

Petroglyph Canyon Area Trails (Petroglyph Canyon or Hidden Valley Access)

Petroglyph Canyon Trail 100 – 2.1 miles (1.7 to petroglyphs), easy to moderate with dry falls
 Cowboy Trail 200 – 0.7 miles, easy to moderate avoiding dry falls scramble
 Hidden Valley Trail 300 – 2.7 miles, 3230 to 3760 feet, easy to moderate
 Park Peak to Petroglyph Canyon Trail 101 – 3.5 miles, easy to moderate

Black Mountain Area Trails (Shadow Canyon Access)

Park Peak Loop Trail 403 – 2.7 miles to peak, 3000 to 3800 feet, easy to moderate
 Connector Trail 402 – 0.5 miles, moderate, foot traffic, connects Black Mtn to Park Peak
 Black Mountain Loop Trail 404 – 5 mile loop, 3000 to 5020 feet, moderate to difficult
 Shadow Canyon Access Trail to Water Retention Basin trail junction point – 0.5 miles paved

Anthem Hills Park Area Trails (Anthem East Access)

Anthem East Trail – 8.3 miles (including 3 attached loop trails), 2565 to 3500 feet, mod/diff
 McCullough Hills Trail – 8 miles, 2560 to 3150 feet, well groomed wide trail

Mission Avenue Area Trails (Mission Avenue Access)

McCullough Hills Trail - see item above
 Loop Trail 601- 7 miles, 2500 to 2970 feet, loop trail with view from hills, easy to moderate

Dutchman Pass Area Trails (Dutchman Pass Access)

Mountain Bike Skills Trails 603 to 614, easy to moderate, mountain bikes, 4 miles total
 West Dutchman Pass Trail – 3.6 miles, easy

Quo Vadis Area Trails (Quo Vadis Access)

Quo Vadis Loop Trail 701 – 5.6 miles, 2780 to 3280 feet, easy
 East to West Connector Trail 500 – 4.5 miles dirt utility road designated for trail use
 Additional connector and short trails 501 to 611 – additional trails in the Quo Vadis area

Updated
1/3/2017

We are the Friends of Sloan Canyon, a 501(c)3 non-profit organization supporting efforts to conserve, protect and enjoy Sloan Canyon National Conservation Area, one of your National Conservation Lands. More information at www.friendsofsloan.org. Email comments to trails@friendsofsloan.org.

A Short Guide to Sloan Canyon Trails by Friends of Sloan Canyon

Designated Trails in Sloan

TRAIL SAFETY CONSIDERATIONS

- Adequate water
- Sun protection (hat, sunglasses, suntan lotion)
- Someone knows where you are going and when you will return
- Appropriate footwear
- Knowledge of route
- Dogs on leashes & clean up
- Awareness of snakes
- Appropriate energy food
- Electrolyte replenishment

Dogs - Only on trails outside wilderness and petroglyph area. Keep on leash and clean up.

Mountain bikes - Anthem East, McCullough Hills and 500, 600 & 700 series trails.

Equestrian - Wilderness area outside Petroglyph Management Area, McCullough Hills and 500, 600 & 700 series trails.

Hiking - All areas. Please use trails when available.

Petroglyph Management Area

Petroglyph Canyon
Please view from wash bottom w/o climbing on or touching petroglyphs

Wilderness Area Boundary

NCA Boundary

Please be Aware!

Cell Phone service is often unreliable in Sloan Canyon NCA.

Please do not collect or harm any of the plants, rocks, animals or historic items found here
- all are protected by federal law.

Off highway vehicles are not allowed.

We are the Friends of Sloan Canyon, a 501(c)3 non-profit organization supporting efforts to conserve, protect and enjoy Sloan Canyon National Conservation Area, one of your National Conservation Lands. More information at www.friendsofsloan.org. Email comments to trails@friendsofsloan.org.