Funders Together
TO END HOMELESSNESS

Introduce Yourself in the Chat

- Name
- Pronoun
- Organization
- Whose land are you on and/or who are your native ancestors? (www.native-land.ca)

There is no such thing as a single-issue struggle because we do not live single-issue lives.

-- Audre Lorde

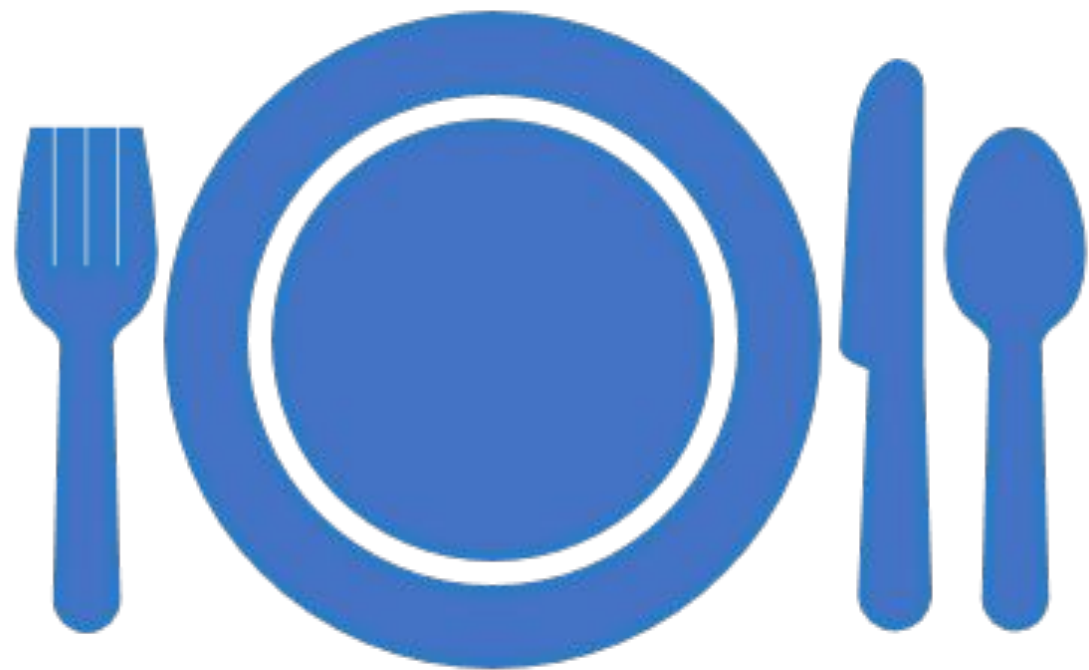

Breakout Rooms Technology

- If you need to communicate with me, use the “Ask for Help” button
- Only people in your room can see your chat box
- 60 second countdown before breakouts end

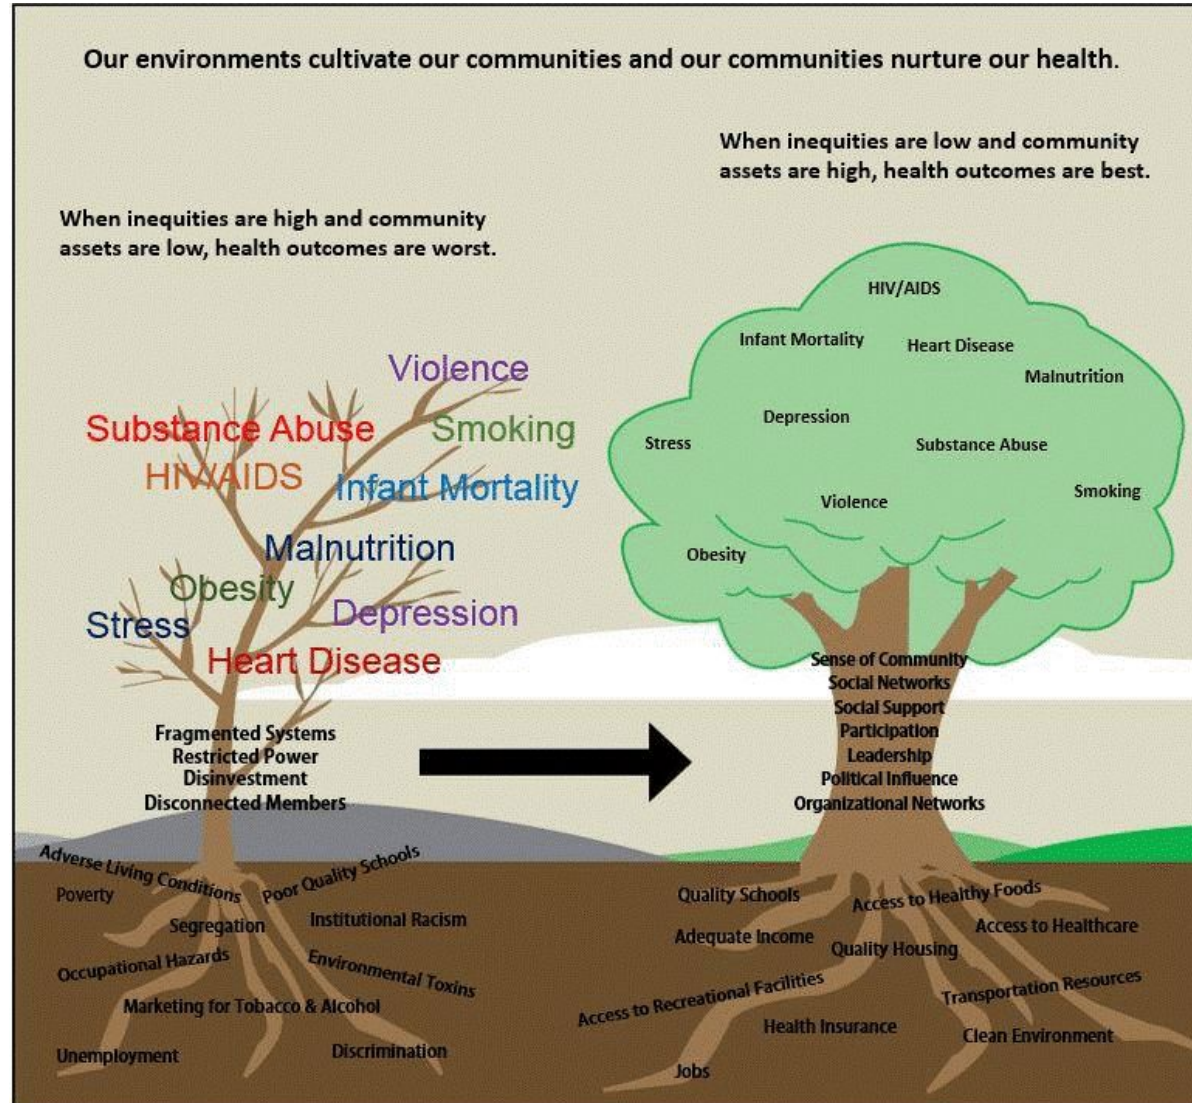

Monday Check In

- Why this intersection of health and housing and homelessness?
- Why did you decide to join this group?

Setting the Table

Social Determinants of Health

“There is no low-hanging fruit. The tree is 400 years old and the roots are deep. These trees are deeply rooted in racism and the fruit they bear is rotten. We have to plant new seeds and toil new soil.”

-- Aisha Alexander-Young Vice President for Strategy and Equity, at The Meyer Foundation

Principled Struggle

Attributed to N'tanya Lee, it is the concept that struggle is a condition for change and liberation and that to disagree and grapple with each other is an inevitable and necessary part of racial equity work.

Working Agreement

- Bring your whole person
- Lean into discomfort (for the sake of learning and growing)
- Respectful disagreement is OK
- Realize it may be someone's first draft
- Confidentiality is a must
- Hard questions are welcome

The Health Care and Homelessness Pilot Initiative

Andi Broffman, Community Solutions

Small Group Conversations

- What resonated with you in this upcoming initiative?
- What are you excited to hear more about as the pilot continues?

Closing Reflection

- One word check out: How are you feeling?
