Food for Thought:

Winning Elections Requires Unity, Moving On, Self-funding, and a Lot of Unpaid Hard Work:

Unity - As we all respond to the 2016 election results, and other losses since 2008, teamwork by all Galvestonians concerned for America's future is key to replacing the ruling right-wing authoritarians who represent a wealthy minority of America's citizens.

Moving On - As we all move forward, our actions must be about what can we do better together to dramatically alter our political and economic landscape. It's about recovering from recent and significant losses against the extreme right and their paymasters. It's about returning our government to one who's moral responsibility is to equally protect and empower all citizens.

Self-funding - We need at least 100 people from all over the county to contribute an average of $18.00 a month starting now and through to the 2018 mid term elections. This is just to fund minimum basic activities and bills the local party has to pay, like funding our primary and the elections, and supporting our candidates.

Unpaid hard work - We need hundreds of volunteers from all across the county. We need precinct chairs. We need candidates for local offices. We need to complete thousands of phone calls and face-to-face meetings to help elect local candidates. If you have not already volunteered to help the Galveston County Democratic Party, please do so now.
