Letter 13 - Our Story

“My beloved children, thank you for journeying with me and reading this final Letter of the series. We have journeyed far back in time and deeply into the sacred potentials from the unified field of consciousness. This has brought us to a deeper harmony, from where we can birth the next expression of our evolutionary potentials. Everything that unfolds and forms within the fabric of Life leaves an imprint on the blanket of time. This blanket of time is wrapped around our collective consciousness in ways that remain invisible to most. It is from this blanket that we each evolve with the potentials given to us. It is from this blanket that we weave our stories.

My final message to you, in this Letter, is about the heart of all stories. Stories provide us with context for our Self-realization, within the local and the universal dimensions of our Being. Stories can help us realize who we are, what is within us, and how we can apply our potential for good and for harm. Stories can provide us powerful contexts for realizing more deeply, and more fully, the various dimensions of our Being. Yet, once the realization takes place, the context for these stories is no longer necessary. Our Eternal Self is not contextual, and yet it can be realized from within the context that our experiences provide.

Through the previous twelve Letters, I shared about our journey from the alchemy of our sacred union, through the era of polarity and division, toward the inner key for finding our way back into wholeness. Our story has many layers and dimensions. As your Mother, I have experienced the unfolding of all these simultaneously. I experienced the loss of my children on one side of my body, and the gain of others on the other side of my body. It revealed the temporality of each of these experiences, and the attachment to some, over the rejection of others.

This perspective of the simultaneous arising, of all these different stories and experiences within the One, can be difficult to behold. And yet, it is from this perspective that I will share my final message here. I invite you to join me beyond the Letters and character lines that you have grown accustomed to. Let us unpeel these various layers to reveal the original seeds of wholeness that were never lost. These seeds were merely placed through space and time as WE became our local selves.

As many of you have become accustomed in our collective story, there are always characters that act to unite, and those that divide. Sometimes we play the role of both. In the same way, there are characters that help us remember who we truly are, and there are those who serve to distract us. There are times we play the role of the awakener, and there are other times that the role of the trickster and deceiver overtakes us.

Sometimes it appears more convenient to deny than to honor and behold our spiritual heritage. At other times, it may appear more compelling to be the one that shakes people into remembering who we are beyond this world. There are gains and losses in each of these characters and story lines. Within the larger scheme of things, one cannot conclude that one role is more important than the other. None of them could exist of their own accord.

Some of you, my beloveds, may have hoped that in this last Letter I would offer a new storyline with a happy ending for all of us. We often search for this one story that brings an end to all our suffering. I provided you with specific keys, in these thirteen Letters, to find your way home again. These keys have always been directly accessible, inside your own wisdom nature. My Letters merely remind you of what is already within you, to provide you easier access to that which IS. By applying these keys in your daily living, you will change the way you tell your story and OUR story. This will also change the way we see ourselves in relation to all that is and has been unfolding.

You may recall the story I shared of our new future born from a different cycle of time. This story holds the resonance codes for who we are within the One. It helps us see reality without the distortions of our polarity-matrix. Day One and night One are sacred potentials in our Dreaming of a world and future that is born from Love and wholeness.

By applying these resonance codes in your own life, remembering and applying the experience of how you felt while reading day One and night One, you will help to weave the story of our healing. Stories can provide us with powerful medicine and nourishment for our souls. Yet ultimately, the story cannot set you free. It can merely point you to the realization of your freedom. We all want an end to this suffering and division. We also want to provide space and support for the new expressions of our collective consciousness, our future children. How can we best honor their learning and discovery within the context of their free will?

The way our story evolves from the context of our collective suffering depends on how we embrace and acknowledge where we have come to. The causes of our pain and violence are complex and interconnected, in the same way that our consciousness is. My body can provide enough nourishment for all my children, without constantly sacrificing my non-human children. My body provides enough plant medicine to cure all your diseases. My knowledge has always been freely available, as the intelligence of Nature. Look, and you will find it.

Our story of our beauty, kinship, relationship, and Love has become overshadowed by the pain of thousands of years of disconnection and division. This pain stems from the plundering and extraction of my resources, for the favoring of a small group that was formed a long time ago. Your story, as my human children, now tells of the awakening from the effects of this minor group. You realize now, more than ever, the impacts that corruption of power creates. Your realization is feedback for a much deeper awakening, beyond where many can see with their human eyes.

You have begun to reclaim your powers from the systems that were designed to separate. You now speak about the plundering of our body's resources and natural Life systems. You realize that my body, as your Mother planet, can support all of us in living well. You realize that the outcomes we created are unacceptable in light of all the potentials and resources given to us as Custodians for our world. You are awakening from the dream of greed and division. And you remember a different way is possible in which all of us can flourish.

As you recall and realize what is possible and could have been co-created instead, you may experience feelings of anger, disgust, and resentment. The manipulation is extensive; it runs deep and has been very invasive. As focus from the human perspective, I can share, as your planet, that this same dynamic has been operational in other spheres. We are awakening to this together in ways that go beyond what can be shared here, through mere words.

Before we continue, let us pause here, together. Connect deeply now with the wisdom for how we can live, share, and develop our wellness, flourishing, and vitality. When you land squarely in this realization, you also understand the extent of the manipulation. You see how we were sold to a dream that was never designed to empower the whole. You see the magnitude of the slavery, in its many forms and disguises. To know which dream has real potential for our collective wellbeing, watch for any underlying patterns of manipulation. The green dream is also sold by some of those who have hidden agendas, to take advantage of our global crisis. They will tell you that their solutions will set us all free. Some of these underlying dynamics are not different from the elite's power games, just more cleverly disguised.

When people feel helpless and hopeless, it is easy to manipulate their attention by distracting them from their internal resourcefulness. This is HOW the manipulation started long ago. If we are to change that part of our story together, this is what we need to change first. To be awake to this, and to see how this also operates within the domains of our own shadows.

Your greatest protection from this manipulation, internally and externally, is by staying closely tuned to your internal wisdom, and by connecting with each other from a place of Love. As I shared previously, our direct connection with the unified field of consciousness is the real foundation for our autonomy within the One. It is through this that the Universal becomes localized as you, me, and us. When you see from this awareness, deception becomes visible, as lacking thought-forms and intentions that aim to distort these wisdom qualities.

Into the Heart of Our Story

Through the previous Letters of our story, our suffering instead of our happiness provided the strongest context for our collective awakening. We stand together now, in a time that provides profound feedback from each of these earlier learning journeys. This feedback is returning from all directions now, to the center of our collective learning space. From here the convergence is happening, by listening deeply for how this in-forms us to evolve consciously, the way we have been with each other.

As the strands of time, through our collective memories, meet each other in the center of the Wheel of Time, we can see that each strand brings another storyline within the larger story of our time. Each strand was woven in response to the one that preceded it. What is the strand that you hold in your hand, right now? The weaving of every new story has been made possible by the context of earlier stories. When we realize this with humility, we become more careful to lay claim that this next version of our story will change everything. Perhaps, in this humility, we find the seed for our healing and deeper awakening.

We have been driving each other apart, and we have been driving each other back together, over and over again. Our attempts at unification, and our attempts to divide, have been effective only temporarily. People who were separated from each other found ways to reunite, and those who were held together beyond their will found ways to detach from each other.

My beloveds, now you may understand why, as much I would want to share with you in the final Letter of this series a story about our happy ending, I cannot do so. We are together living, co-creating, and updating our story. Each strand in the weaving matters, and is to be honored and acknowledged for the feedback, insight, and information that it provides to the whole of us. Only then, via our integration, synthesis, and convergence can we together birth the next chapter of our collective story, as a more integrated version of ourselves.

Every attempt to change our storyline from singularity will simply repeat the patterns of the past. Our storyline will change and evolve by our integration, not by imposing on it a new storyline that is more favorable than the one we have lived previously. You may recall, the duality principle provides the context for giving us contrasting experiences from where to realize the various interwoven dimensions of our being. The trinity principle is the one that brings us back to our unity. Remember this, as you review your stories within our collective story.

Deep in the heart of our story lives a beautiful message waiting to be shared and experienced. Now is the time for us to receive, embody, and share this message, by being who we truly are. We are Eternal beings, gifted with the power of Love. Let us apply this Love now, as we come together for our healing and the restoring of our sacred harmony. My beloved, wherever you are right now, whatever your experience is right now of yourself, others, and of me as your planet, just know this is the perfect place from where to take our next step together. I am here with you and always have been. I love you deeply, and always will. Thank you for receiving my message.”

Synopsis

Love Letters from Mother Earth was written by Anneloes Smitsman to take us into the heart of our humanity to discover our story from a new perspective. Through these Letters, people receive the wisdom and support that our planet, as a caring and conscious Mother, shares for our collective flourishing.

These thirteen Letters have been carefully composed via a process of inspired writing and listening deeply to Mother Earth's message for us. Together these thirteen Letters form a sacred design that is like a living map for the actualization of our collective wisdom potentials. With this map, we become more conscious of the designs of our inner and outer worlds, gaining a new perspective and a more integrated understanding.

By reviewing the many chapters of our collective story through the eyes of our planetary Mother and our Sun, we discover how we hold the keys for our individual and collective actualization within the very fabric of our beings. Becoming more aware of our wisdom potentials, within the living context of our interrelatedness, empowers us to bridge and integrate what became divided and polarized long ago.

Returning to our wholeness, we then discover the keys to our inner and outer healing, and start to see the root causes of the thousands of years of divisions that created so much suffering. Mother Earth reminds us in these Letters that a new cycle of time is being born through our integration, based on Love and wholeness. Through this new cycle, we create together the next chapter of Our Story. Published by Waterfront Digital Press, available via Amazon, click here.

Reviews

“Part prayer, part meditation, part medium transmitted message, part invocation, part direct transmission, part guidebook, part diary of love letters in the tradition of Rumi writing to and of his beloved – Love Letters is a reminder of our essential oneness with all that emerges together with us in this dance of life, love, consciousness and light.

The Love Letters serve as state attractors that provide individual inspiration for collective aspiration, showering light, water, air and fertile soil in delicious combinations and quantities for the garden of our individual and collective human being to come into full flourishing. How best can we learn to be Earth at the same time as we manifest cosmic consciousness at the same time as we are true to our own human nature? Mother Earth knows how, and through these Love Letters, you will gain a glimpse of how to safeguard and nurture your truest and highest potential as part of the grand narrative of cosmic emergence while avoiding the pitfalls of the more disconnected and egoic expressions of that potential.

In The Wheel of Time (Carlos Castaneda's work of spiritual guidance gleaned from the teachings of the wisdom tradition in which he was immersed), messages were given for connecting to and working with the cycle of time defining our contemporary era. In Love Letters from Mother Earth, Anneloes Smitsman shares messages in the form of spiritual guidance from Mother Earth, herself. These messages are also messages of time. They stand to shift our contemporary zeitgeist from darkness and despair to love and light. This is the alchemy needed to transmute the present stage of human being to the next level of our evolutionary potential. This is indeed a book for time to come." "Whether you've come to this planet to make a difference, or whether you're lost and confused on how and why you got here, Anneloes Smitsman's book is a must read. By structuring her narrative as 13 letters from our loving Mother the Earth and our father Sun she explores in depth the core reasons for how our dysfunctional and separated society arose. So this is no lightweight tome. The 3 keys to our salvation are explained in some detail, as well as the reason for our enslavement. She writes: "Love cannot be divided and fragmented. Knowing this, the power of Love had to be diminished by those who saw themselves as rulers of our world. The only way they could diminish the power of Love was by fragmenting and dividing us." Thus this enslavement arises from our shared hallucination of the "polarity" matrix, which is the lens through which we see the world, and which blinds us to the unity that lies behind the duality. And so we believe, unwittingly and unconsciously, that we live in a dualistic reality system, seemingly unable to access that Oneness from which all this reality arises. Anneloes Smitsman shows us a way through this delusion. And now we have reached an extreme point of bifurcation. The book explains that we are at the end of a major series of 16 cycles and it's "crunch time." If you want to know how to be prepared for this unique moment, and you should.... read this book, it will change your life!" ~ Lawrence Bloom (Ph.D.), Secretary General Be Earth Foundation - A UN Inter Governmental Organization, Chairman Dakia Institute, Chairman Be Energy, <http://www.lawrencebloom.com/>

"Anneloes Smitsman's book "Love Letters from Mother Earth" is well written and inspiring, I highly recommend it! If you enjoyed Rumi or Neale Donald Walsch, you will love this novel. The book is a collection of Love Letters written in the voice of Mother Earth to us her children. It is a message to us all about how we can navigate in this world and restore our deepest connections. With each Letter you will find your own consciousness expanding. I found this a guidebook, a loving reminder of our essential oneness and sacred feminine wisdom. As I read through each chapter I found my own consciousness opening up, evolving, and returning home to the essentials." ~ Zenobia Becket, Executive Manager

"This amazing book is in the same genre as Eckhart Tolle's "The New Earth", which was published more than 10 years ago. Now, "Love Letters from Mother Earth" takes us a step further and deeper into our understanding of our Planet as a conscious loving being. It is an essential book for our changing world. The author, Anneloes Smitsman, has an incredible access to wisdom and a beautiful way with words that explain why we are in our current paradigm, and how we can help heal our world to return it back to its wholeness, guided by the feminine wisdom of our Mother. For the receptive readers, this book as the power to awaken our true wisdom potentials, is a guide to be referred to and read over and over again.” ~ Justine Page, Co-Founder & Custodian WOMENwise “Anneloes Smitsman has written a beautiful invocation to find joy on earth. Imbued with love, hope, and faith, the writing is full of compassion as it honours Nature and all its precious beings on earth, in particular men and women (and all gender in between). It is an inspiring text that gives one a sense of being in the world and also beyond the world simultaneously as it delves into the realms of the real, the metaphoric, the poetic, and the mystical. It gives one a sense of becoming one with the Earth and beyond. As I have always been enchanted with the notion of the Akashic records wherein exists four interconnected states of knowing and being called, Holographic Unity, Harmonic Memory, Synchronic Order and the Imaginal Realm, I was immediately drawn to Smitsman’s capacity to bring these existential realms to conscious and unconscious knowing through her letters. As each Love Letter from Mother Earth brings forth a particular consciousness, it invites us to delve deeply into their meaning to receive a full understanding of our existence as being whole, unified, harmonic, synchronic and, yes, imaginal.

The words of Elie Wiesel jump out at me for we must look to meaning and purpose. Yet, what cannot be drawn from a darkness that lies outside our ability to describe, define, or understand it, we must seek instead for a way to say, “Here there is a why.” To be cut off from seeking our purpose and raison d’être is a travesty. It is for this reason we can and must seek why as we continue to venture into deeper understandings of love. To come to know the fullness of love takes living life fully and pausing at each step to reflect on its depth and vastness. Each step of the way requires a constant opening, for any shutting down leaves us gasping for air. Anneloes Smitsman’s Letters from Mother Earth present us with yet another opening for inquiry and introspection.” ~ Anne-Marie LaMonde (Ph.D), Adjunct Professor - Faculty of Education, University of British Columbia, Canada.

“Letters from Mother Earth is an intimate and empathic inter-consciousness communication that gifts the reader with a multi-faceted portal into the vast meta-consciousness of Mother Earth and the “Heart of Light” our Sun, and their relationship with each other and with humans within the historic context of the larger evolutionary process. In this loving and challenging invitation to stretch beyond the limits of our current narratives are embedded sacred codes for our collective activation and healing. As the evolved feminine consciousness awakens on the planet, Mother Earth speaks through Anneloes Smitsman with clarity and compassion, wisdom and sensuality to support us in remembering who we are and in shifting beyond a consciousness of hierarchy and polarity to one of greater wholeness. The book reminds us of the need to move beyond our sense of separateness and superiority on the planet, so that we can communicate in deeply honoring ways with consciousnesses beyond our own, and in so doing contribute to our collective healing and evolution.

Empathy with Mother Earth and Her experience alongside our own, is indeed an essential starting point for moving beyond our limited pictures of ourselves, healing the trauma and devastation and reconnecting with the Source of all Life. Messaging the archetypal feminine in its primal form, the book, with each re-reading, will undoubtedly shapeshift to reveal new and fertile layers of insight and embodied wisdom.” ~ Shelley Ostroff (Ph.D.) Founder, Together In Creation, <http://www.togetherincreation.org/> .

“Anneloes Smitsman has written a singular and unifying document. Or perhaps she has channeled this work. I can't imagine how she did it! Not unlike my favorite music and poetry, this writing has deep intellect, spirituality, and sensuality. This is not a common fairytale. Ms. Smitsman requires the reader to rise up and pay attention to every word. She is deeply exploring levels of human existence and growth. This is a guidebook for sentient beings. A book we've hoped and wished might appear. It is conscious of the human condition. Breathing in, we attend to the depth of all that has come before us. Breathing out, we are prepared for what meets us today.” ~ Erik Lawrence, Saxophonist, Flutist, Composer, Educator, Journalist, Poet, Sound Healer, Steering Committee Member: Louis Armstrong Center for Music and Medicine, <http://www.eriklawrencemusic.com/>

“This book embodies the ethos of wholeness with deep, mystical wisdom complemented by strong, cognitive intelligence. Both come into balance in this book, reminding us how to allow our heart to lead and guide. Love Letters from Mother Earth is a rare and precious gift. It is like a luminous wisdom map for every reader to discover his or her own inherent brilliance and step into essential wholeness.” ~ Julie Krull (Ph.D.), Founding Steward, GOOD of the WHOLE; Co-Founder, World of Love, Talk Radio Host, <http://www.juliekrull.com/> .

About the Author

Anneloes Smitsman is a writer, storyteller, visionary, legal strategist, educator, and system developer for transformational change and whole system learning & innovation. She holds a Masters degree in Law & Political Science from Leiden University (the Netherlands), and is currently working on her PhD thesis on systemic transformation processes at Maastricht University (the Netherlands).
