

How Natural Cycles Lead to Progress

Humanity's evolution of consciousness is not just a linear progression from one point to another, nor is it random progress and regress ~

- It is rather a purposeful process of cycles of transformation with built-in strife, chaos, and upheaval leading to renewal, in which opposing forces are necessary for the evolutionary impulse to gain momentum. Non-linear cyclical renewal, with its built-in oppositions, keeps evolution on its intended path.

Humanity is coming of age, always part of an evolutionary process moving us through the stages of our collective evolution, each one with its built-in upheavals, toward our collective maturity –

from Family Unity to Tribal Unity to City-State Unity to National Unity to World Unity

*This is a time long ago promised by all sacred traditions,
when we will live with a common purpose,
ushering in a just, prosperous,
and peaceful world.*
