Route Description:

Setting out from the hamlet of Glen Williams, make sure time is put aside before or after the ride to explore this charming Credit River valley area or nearby Georgetown. This 38 km Greenbelt ride is on quiet and well paved rural roads, passing bountiful farm fields, lush forests, and a variety of wetlands. Pop out into the town of Acton, skirting Fairy Lake, well known for fishing and accessible by canoe or kayak rentals from Prospect Park. Learn about Acton's leather industry heritage that dates back to the early 1800s, with a stop at the Olde Hide House and Leathertown shop. Enjoy the countryside cruise back towards Georgetown, via Limehouse, where the nearby conservation area and walking trails take visitors through unique geological features and past the remains of kilns from the once thriving local lime industry. Return to Glen Williams where the bakery, pub, antique bookseller, riverside picnic area, arts centre, and studios all make for a welcome postride reception.
