WE CAN END AIDS.
We have the tools to end the AIDS pandemic in less than 30 years if the United States invests our financial resources in treatment and prevention services for all.

This investment will only happen if we summon the political will to end the pandemic.

We need YOUR help to make the end of AIDS a reality.

Are you a young person or a student? Starting or joining an SGAC chapter is the best way to join the movement to end AIDS. AIDS is the crisis of our generation and we will be defined by our response to it. If we work together, we have the power to change global health policies and save people around the world.

Not a young person or a student? Join our listserv and virtual discussion groups to connect with our national network of activists and learn how to take action in your community.

SGAC relies on donations from our supporters to run successful campaigns and build our movement. Donate today by visiting our website!

JOIN US

SUPPORT US

CONNECT

WHY SGAC?

YOUTH CAN END AIDS

Meeting at Senator Chuck Schumer’s office as part of Global AIDS Action Week in April of 2017.

@FightGlobalAIDS

www.studentglobalaidscampaign.org
The Student Global AIDS Campaign (SGAC) is a US-based network of student and youth organizations that demands sufficient resources, effective prevention, & guaranteed access to AIDS treatment and care as a matter of moral urgency.

We seek to mobilize a diverse student movement, in partnership with students internationally, to make claims upon governments, corporations, & civil society through:

→ education  → leadership training
→ direct action → informed advocacy

WHAT DO SGAC CHAPTERS DO?

- Educate students, young people, and communities about the HIV/AIDS crisis and their role in this movement.
- Use congressional advocacy, the media, and direct action to fight for the policies and resources necessary to end the AIDS pandemic.
- Mobilize on their campuses and in their communities for access to HIV prevention and testing.
- Empower and train a new generation of activists who have the tools to transform their society along the lines of justice.
- Make the AIDS crisis politically costly for our leaders to ignore.

Multinational pharmaceutical companies consistently prioritize their profits over the lives of the people who need their medications.

Certain demographics, such as people who are LGBTQ+, sex workers, and people who inject drugs have a higher rate of HIV infection.

Globally, women and girls are disproportionately affected by HIV, largely because of a lack of sexual and reproductive health care and autonomy.