A Partnership Heads to the Coast for International Coastal Cleanup Inland Empire Waterkeeper and Arrowhead Brand Mountain Spring Water are Invested in the Future of our Waterways

Riverside, Calif.,-- Inland Empire Waterkeeper and Arrowhead Brand Mountain Spring Water will head to Huntington Beach as part of the Crest to Coast project on Saturday, September 17th for the annual Coastal Cleanup Day from 9:00am to 12:00pm.

Waterkeeper extends the invite to the public to get involved by checking out the California Coastal Commission's website for location sites and volunteer opportunities. This annual coastal cleanup helps coastlines and waterways throughout the nation to be clear of litter that is harmful to the ocean and aquatic life which makes it a great opportunity to get the family active in making a positive impact on the environment.

Huntington Beach is one of the most populous beaches in Southern California and thus in need of some care. Waterkeeper along with Arrowhead Brand Mountain Spring Water want employees to be active in their efforts to maintain the health of the local waterways.

Waterkeeper encourages volunteers to spend the rest of the day at the beach and participate in the Jamboree from 11:30-2:30 to learn about the impacts of pollution and for fun activities that the whole family can enjoy.

Waterkeeper wants to educate but also show that keeping and enjoying healthy waterways is what it is all about. And saving those same waterways and beaches we enjoyed as children for future generations.

Come out and enjoy a day at the beach, make a difference and sign-up to volunteer today!

For more information about volunteering, contact Waterkeeper at 951.530.8823.

Inland Empire Waterkeeper

Established in 2005, Inland Empire Waterkeeper is a non-profit environmental organization whose mission is to protect and enhance the water quality of the Upper Santa Ana River Watershed through programs of advocacy, education, research, restoration and enforcement. As the only non-profit in the Inland Empire dedicated to addressing water quality issues in the Santa Ana Watershed, Waterkeeper focuses on grassroots, community-oriented projects including water sampling, habitat restoration, community clean-ups and robust educational programs, to protect waterways throughout Riverside and San Bernardino Counties. Waterkeeper uses a regional, collaborative approach to watershed management working with local, state, and federal government agencies to ensure proactive water policy while promoting compliance with the Federal Clean Water Act and other environmental laws for swimmable, drinkable, fishable waters. Arrowhead® Brand Mountain Spring Water

With roots in Southern California dating back to 1894, Arrowhead® Brand 100% Mountain Spring Water is sourced and distributed from the Pacific through the Rockies. In California, where the brand has been trusted for more than a century, 80% of the mountain spring water sourced in the state is distributed in California. As a proud member of the communities in which the company operates, Arrowhead supports environmental and water stewardship throughout Southern California. In addition to its watershed cleanup work with Inland Empire Waterkeeper, the company has maintained a partnership with the Southern California Mountain Foundation for over two decades, enabling the organization to undertake hundreds of restoration projects in the San Bernardino and Angeles National Forests. Arrowhead® is a product of Nestlé Waters North America, the third largest nonalcoholic beverage company by volume in the U.S. To learn more, visit: www.arrowheadwater.com
