Celebrating 26 Years of Advancing Women Leaders
IWF – Who We Are & What We Do

The International Women’s Forum (IWF) is an invitation-only, membership organization comprised of more than 7,000 diverse and accomplished women from 33 nations on six continents. IWF is member- and mission-driven. Its members are trailblazers, innovators, and pioneers united to advance women's leadership globally and locally. Members include Fortune 500 executives, government leaders from the local to sovereign level, international nonprofit leaders, and luminaries from the academy, arts, and sciences.

IWF’s Leadership Foundation (LF) supports high-performing women through leadership development programs – the Fellows Program and the EY Women Athletes Business Network (WABN) Mentoring Program.

IWF also provides intensive leadership training programs for women at every stage of professional development through its Executive Development Roundtables.

About the Program

The Fellows Program is the Leadership Foundation’s signature leadership development program. Now in its 26th year, the Fellows Program accelerates the careers of top-performing women through world-class leadership training and mentoring from executive women leaders. The approach is holistic and focused on the participant’s personal and professional development, career path, and trajectory, while embracing the value of an outside perspective.

Launched in 1994 with seed-funding from the U.S. Labor Department as a direct result of the Glass Ceiling Commission, the program annually convenes approximately 35 Fellows from around the world for a total of 20 days. Executed in partnership with Harvard Business School and INSEAD, the Fellows Program offers customized leadership training for female senior executives on their path to the C-suite that is academic, behavioral, and technical.
About the Program

Over 500 Fellows Across 51 Countries

The Leadership Foundation has continually expanded its reach across the globe with Fellows from 51 nations. More than half of the 2019-2020 Fellows Class hail from outside the United States.

With a ‘Excellent’ Net Promoter Score of 92, the Fellows Program:

- Delivers phenomenal personal impact
- Provides world-class leadership training
- Creates an exceptionally close, supportive network
- Inspires participants to empower and help others
- Leverages diversity of sectors and geography to deliver greater impact for all
About the Program

What Makes the Fellows Program Special

The program convenes approximately 35 Fellows from around the world for a total of 20 days, comprised of three separate sessions. It is executed in partnership with INSEAD and Harvard Business School. The Fellows Program offers creative, multidisciplinary training aimed at developing leadership and strategic management capabilities.

In addition to leadership training, Fellows are matched with an IWF member who serves as a mentor and coach during the program year. Through the mentoring experience, participants gather personal insights and advice from women at the top of their field. Fellows also take part in IWF’s annual World Leadership Conference, which brings together 850+ female executives from more than 40 nations.

To amplify the impact of the program, Fellows are responsible for implementing a Legacy Project that applies the skills learned in a relevant way. Previous Legacy Projects include: a career conference series aimed at female university students in Mexico, a breakfast roundtable for women in the U.S. military in Washington, D.C., and mentoring circles to foster a pipeline of women leaders in the aviation industry.

“The most unique thing about the Fellows Program for me was the opportunity to get to interact with fantastic members of the IWF. IWF members are of such high caliber... seeing them and hearing their stories changed the way I think about my own potential.”

2017-2018 Class Fellow

“I thought the combination of networking, personal development, and professional development was perfect. It was the best training experience I have ever had.”

About the Program

Recent Courses at INSEAD and HBS:

- Leadership, Power, and Influence
- Managing and Attracting Star Performers
- Influence Strategies and Negotiation
- Managing the Work-Life Interface
- Managing and Marketing Platforms Globally
- High Performance Teams
- Disruptive Innovation
- Leading and Managing Change

“I always look for opportunities to network and strongly believe in its value. What I realized during the training at INSEAD was how similar the people are that are in my network. Prof. Herminia Ibarra emphasized the importance and value of a diversified network.”

Virginia Addicott, Chief Executive Officer
FedEx Custom Critical
2012-2013 Fellows Class

INSEAD

Held at INSEAD’s global campus in France, the Fellows are pushed to adopt a deeper, global perspective. A core component of the training is the 360° Global Executive Leadership Inventory developed by INSEAD’s Global Leadership Center to measure 12 dimensions of leadership. The Fellows assess what they learned from the inventory with professional coaches.

HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL
Executive Education

A custom-tailored executive education program at Harvard Business School engages Fellows in a unique combination of classroom work, case-study discussion, and peer advice. Fellows hone their ability to think strategically in areas including negotiation, marketing, organizational learning, the management of innovation and services, and global affairs. Fellows also meet with their Board of Advisors groups in which they each work through a business challenge.
About the Program

Criteria

Each year, the Leadership Foundation selects a geographically, culturally, ethnically and professionally diverse group of women. The Leadership Foundation seeks candidates that demonstrate the following:

- Considered change agents within their organization and community
- Possess the ambition to push to the highest levels of their career and the desire to lift as they rise with regard to legacy and mentoring
- Substantive professional/work experience and significant direct accomplishments
- Strength of character, motivation and commitment to goals
- Superior intellectual ability, as evidenced by academic history and distinctions, and recommendations
- Have the capacity to both contribute to and gain from the Fellows Program
- Intention to participate fully in all activities and training components associated with the Fellows Program, as well as a commitment to the Legacy Project

What Alumnae are saying about the Fellows Program?

Over 550 women leaders across multiple disciplines and sectors have participated in this program. Here is what they are saying about their overall perception of the program:

Major Strengths and Recommendations

Major Strengths:

- “Fantastic set of women, diverse and interesting and fun. It was a joy to get to know them.”
- “Bonding between the Fellows.”
- “The network that is established between the Fellows is incredible.”
- “I thought the combination of networking, personal development, and professional development was perfect. I have been through similar programs run by my company and I really feel this one is outstanding.

Recommendations:

- “[Provide] more coaching on the Legacy Project earlier in the program.”
- “The HBS week was exhausting. I loved it but a little more time to socialize with other Fellows would have been nice.”

Overall Comments

- “This program was life-changing and I have grown so much in the past year as a leader and as a human...I can’t thank you enough for the opportunity to participate!”
- “I came out of this program a much more present and confident person to contribute to those around me.”
- “...The fellowship changed my attitude towards my career and my beliefs about my capabilities tremendously.”
- “Completely outstanding and best training experience I have ever had in my life. I got so much out of it and am so impressed.”
Program Outcomes – Leadership Progression

As Fellows progressed through the program, they became more certain in their leadership abilities, more confident in their networks, more inspired about their career trajectories, and clearer about their career visions. On average, Fellows’ perception of their leadership abilities improved 15% as they progressed through the program. Data below reflects feedback from 2018-2019 Fellows Class.

What Participating Organizations have to say about the Fellows Program:

“The Leadership Foundation’s Fellows Program is a unique development and retention tool for our most promising women leaders. Each year, women return from the program as better leaders, more engaged employees, and bringing broader perspective to our organization. As you look across Texas Instruments, many of the women in our most senior positions are graduates of the Fellows Program.”

Samantha Dwinell
Vice President, Global Talent Management
Texas Instruments

“The Fellows Program is a transformative experience which allows senior women leaders the opportunity to reflect upon their strengths and career aspirations, while also sharpening many aspects of critical business acumen. It also provides an exceptionally valuable opportunity to collaborate and learn from some of the best and brightest professional women. I know this because I experienced it firsthand as a participant in the 2009-2010 Fellows Class.”

Camille Mirshokrai
