A MESSAGE FROM YOUR MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT

Dear Neighbour,

Last month, Canada marked a National Day of Observance for those lost to this pandemic, but to truly honour their memory, we must pledge to learn from the mistakes made and improve our resilience and readiness as a country. That starts with getting Canada back on its feet.

Once we overcome the current health crisis, we need a plan that focuses on Canada's recovery - a plan that shows there are better days ahead for our country. Under the Leadership of the Hon. Erin O'Toole, my Conservative colleagues and I are focused on Canada's way forward out of the pandemic.

Every Canadian deserves the security and dignity that comes with a secure and stable job. A comprehensive jobs plan to get Canadians back to work across the country will be a key focus for Conservatives in Parliament. My Conservative colleagues and I will put the country first, by committing to the toughest accountability and transparency laws in Canadian history.

On mental health, the last year has made clear the crisis we face. It's time to recognize that mental health is important and we must have the measures in place to properly treat all aspects of it. Equally important, is our economy and we must get it back on track. We can't pass unsustainable debt on to future generations.

Over the last few weeks, I have virtually traveled across the country listening to people outline what they think Canada's priorities should be and what steps need to put in place to succeed.

I encourage you to take a moment to read through the details of our Recovery Plan on the next page and respond to my survey card below. I read each response personally and value the feedback that you share with me. Please contact me at james.cumming@parl.gc.ca or at 780-442-1888 - I would love to hear from you.

Sincerely,
