The Jewish Funders Network International Conference is a unique gathering for private Jewish philanthropy.

Every year, over 450 major donors from around the world, and their program staff, gather for three days to learn and network. In this warm and engaging atmosphere, our community of philanthropists dive deeply into issues, explore ideas, share challenges and engage deeply with one another.

As a sponsor of the conference, you will position yourself as a leader within our community of funding peers. You can host events, brand conference items, or develop creative options to promote your philanthropic goals and grantee organizations.

Contact us today at www.jfunders.org/sponsorship to create a custom package that serves your needs.
SPONSOR PACKAGES

The sponsorship packages shown here offer sample benefits available at different levels. Each package contains a set of marketing/recognition benefits and at least one program benefit (see page 9 for definitions of program benefits). JFN will work with you to develop a custom set of options to meet your goals.

DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM BENEFITS

Pre/Post-Conference Seminar (Silver and above)

A program of your design to take place on Friday March 25th between 8am and 1:30pm or Sunday March 27th between 1:30 and 6pm. The program is placed on the official public schedule and promoted to the complete attendee list. JFN will manage RSVPs and can arrange for kosher meals (at your cost).

Hosted Reception (Gold and above)

A reception either 1) Sunday before the all-conference opening party 2) Sunday night after the all-conference party or 3) Monday either before or after the dinner events. This is a good option to present materials, invite guests, make a short speech, launch a project, or honor a particular grantee.

Snack Break (Gold and above)

Host a conference snack break; dedicated signage and your materials will be placed by the food. Coffee cups and/or napkins with your logo (or that of a grantee organization) can be provided.

Hosted Breakfast (Platinum and above)

A program of your design to take place over breakfast, in a dedicated room, on the morning of Saturday March 26th or Sunday March 27th. A great way to explore a topic, create a panel, or make a presentation on an issue of concern to you. JFN will provide A/V and food; the host should cover travel and housing for any speakers.

Home-Hospitality Dinner (Platinum and above)

Host a group for dinner and conversation in a private home or other venue in Palm Beach on the evening of Monday March 23rd. A great vehicle to have more in-depth conversation with a special guest in a warm environment. JFN will identify local donors prepared to open their homes, manage RSVPs, and provide transportation; the sponsoring host should cover catering costs. Alternate venues can also be arranged.

Activity or Program in Lounge (Platinum and above)

Host one of JFN’s networking installations or activities stations in the public space, intended to facilitate peer-to-peer connection – or develop your own. Contact JFN to discuss your ideas.
LEARNINGLAB & YOUTH EDUCATOR PHILANTHROPY TRAINING

About Honeycomb

Honeycomb is the leading resource for Jewish youth philanthropy. We drive innovation in youth programming by creating tools, curricula and trainings for professionals and organizations to deliver high-quality philanthropic experiences that empower youth to fund real change.

Honeycomb is building the future of Jewish philanthropy.

What Honeycomb Does

Honeycomb provides educational content, resources and experiences to allow educators, professionals, parents and organizations to engage youth in strategic grantmaking. With over 100 Jewish youth philanthropy programs in North America, Israel, and internationally, Honeycomb supports many different host organizations such as schools, synagogues, community centers, Federations, foundations and camps.

Honeycomb Programming Opportunities

Philanthropy and Facilitator Training (scheduled for June 7-9, 2022): Honeycomb’s premier training offers a three-day immersive experience in understanding and facilitating youth philanthropy programs combined with developing philanthropy skills and knowledge.

LearningLab NYC (scheduled for November 10, 2022): A one-day conference for Jewish youth educators, lay leaders, and Jewish organizational professionals who work to engage the next generation of changemakers.

Both these programs are rich in Jewish content and philanthropy education, filled with experiential learning spaces, workshops, and expert speakers. These are not to be missed!
Level up your sponsor recognition at JFN by also sponsoring Honeycomb’s philanthropy programming and trainings.

By strengthening the training, curriculum, resources and both virtual and face-to-face opportunities that Honeycomb offers the network, educators, professionals and parents gain tools and skills so that they can be more impactful in guiding youth through a journey of Jewish identity, leadership and grantmaking.
Honeycomb Programming & Trainings

Add a LearningLab “Star” package to your JFN sponsor package to upgrade your recognition at JFN and receive all listed LearningLab benefits in addition to your JFN package. Honeycomb sponsorship is also available without the JFN package.
