

Natalia Mahmud is the Assistant Director of U.S. Muslim-Jewish Relations at AJC in New York, where she works on the Muslim-Jewish Advisory Council and helps guide the council's domestic policy agenda. She previously worked for the U.S. Government as a Senior Program Examiner for the White House Office of Management and Budget. As such, she oversaw bureaus within the Department of the Treasury and the District of Columbia. She also served as an Advisor at the U.S. Mission to the UN where she was a delegate to the UN Fifth Committee working on management and reform issues.

Natalia earned her Master's in public policy from The George Washington University and holds a BA from Fordham University.