

40 Million Strong!

Mobilizing Together, Millennials in Debt Can Decide the 2016 Presidential Race!

Jill Stein Is The Only Candidate Who Will Cancel Student Debt.

Jill 2016

JILL STEIN FOR PRESIDENT

Paid for by Jill Stein for President

Jill Stein is the only presidential candidate, and the Green Party is the only political party,
to endorse #MillionStudentMarch and all three of its demands:

Tuition-Free Public College: Access to higher education for students in the United States, particularly students of color, is under attack. According to the National Center for Education Statistics, prices for undergraduate tuition, room, and board at public colleges and universities rose 40 percent from 2002 to 2012. Similarly, prices at private nonprofit colleges and universities increased by 28 percent. This is approximately four times the rate of inflation! At the same time, states have spent less per student on higher education following the Great Recession.

Cancellation of All Student Debt: By fighting to cancel all student debt, we want to challenge the rampant inequality and institutionalized racism in higher education. The average college graduate in the Class of 2015 has over $35,000 in debt. More than 40 million Americans share a total of $1.2 trillion in student debt, more than 58 percent of which is held by the poorest 25 percent of Americans. Meanwhile, Congress passed legislation that doubled the interest rates for federal student loans in 2013.

A $15/Hour Minimum Wage for Campus Workers: While top administrators take home six and seven figure salaries, many campus workers are paid poverty wages and are forced to rely on federal and local assistance. Similarly, most adjunct professors are paid abysmal salaries per course. Since 2012, low wage workers across the United States have fought for a $15/hour minimum wage. This challenge to economic inequality has captured national attention and led to concrete victories for workers in several cities, such as Seattle and San Francisco. It's time to bring this fight to our campuses.

To abolish student debt, we need a bold mass movement!

Sign up at StudentMarch.org or email
millionstudentmarch@gmail.com

Start a chapter of Young Greens Rising on your campus!

Sign up at Jill2016/volunteer or email
YoungGreensRising@Jill2016.com

Jill 2016.com
#ItsInOurHands

Vote Green Party