

Our Bristol Plan

Ensuring Everyone Benefits from Bristol's Success

Labour's 2020 Vision

Welcome

Bristol is a great city. I share the love so many people have for our diversity and dynamism. From Brunel to Banksy via Concorde, trip-hop and Aardman, to our 450 parks and green spaces, we are a source of knowledge and innovation.

The West of England is the UK's most economically productive region and we are the only region outside the South East to be a net contributor to the Treasury.

Our challenge is that while we have a great story to tell, this prosperity is shared by too few people in Bristol. A quarter of our children grow up in poverty. We have 42 areas ranked in the most deprived 10% in England, six in the most deprived 1%. We are a city in which inequality is growing and life is increasingly unaffordable.

This is unacceptable. Not only is this a social injustice but it is an economic liability that undermines the strength of our democracy and society.

This manifesto is built on the lived experience and expertise of people from right across Bristol and pulls together the priorities and policies to put the city on the right track.

It is our aim to get every child off to the best possible start in life, ensure people can afford to live here, whether buying or renting, reduce economic, educational and health inequalities and enable people to age with dignity and confidence.

But it is not just what we want to do, but the way we want to do it that marks us out. We must strike a new deal with communities to devolve power and enable grassroots leadership. And we must coordinate with the city's leading organisations across business, unions, health, criminal justice and education to share goals and align our resources to deliver them.

This manifesto aims to ensure Bristol is a city that can flourish with integrity because it is a city in which everyone can participate in success. Together we will build a better Bristol.

Marvin Rees - Labour's candidate for Mayor of Bristol

On May 5th, all of Bristol will have the chance to elect our Mayor and local councillors, shaping Bristol's future for the next four years.

Labour councillors have shown by their actions, not just words, that we are the only people in the Council consistently prepared to stand up for social justice, and, alongside Marvin Rees, as Mayor, we are determined to address the inequalities that hold Bristol back.

Bristol Labour Councillors have changed Bristol for the better, working with residents at a local and neighbourhood level, fighting for your public services, more affordable housing, better public transport, safer communities and cleaner streets and parks, as well as challenging the current Mayor when he has been reluctant to do the right thing.

It was Labour councillors who forced the Mayor to introduce the Living Wage, and persuaded him to change his mind about the abolition of the Council Tax Reduction Scheme to help the most vulnerable in our city. Labour councillors and campaigners have campaigned tirelessly to improve housing conditions for tenants in the private rental sector, making him take action, and it was Labour who forced bus fares down, stemming the reduction in passenger numbers.

With Labour councillors representing your community, and influencing City Council policies, we can start to see the real change our city needs to continue to be prosperous while addressing the major challenges of the ever-deepening housing crisis, the education and skills gap and increasing poverty.

We believe Bristol should be a city where everyone benefits from the city's successes, and our shared manifesto with Marvin Rees, shows some of the innovative ideas we have to do that, making it a place where all people have access to decent jobs and affordable housing, a city that is mobile and environmentally friendly, and above all else, a caring city where no-one gets left behind.

I know Marvin Rees shares our vision, so, if you do too, make sure we can build on these plans, working together to ensure that Bristol works for all, and that the city achieves its full potential.

Our Economy

Bristol needs a strong economy. But it has to be the right kind of economy. Bristol was recently described as one of the most prosperous cities in the UK but one that is increasingly unaffordable and unequal. The evidence tells us that it is not possible to build strong societies, healthy democracies and resilient economies across great wealth gaps. We will work with business, unions, our public sector partners, and communities to build an economy that works for us all, today and over the long term.

We will...

1. Be open for business

- Generate decent jobs, skills and apprenticeships, ensuring opportunities for enterprises to thrive in all parts of the city.
- Help new and existing businesses access European and UK sources of finance and know-how.

- Work with our universities, leaders in sciences and the arts, to ensure that Bristol continues to flourish.
- Lead a first class bid to become the next European Capital of Culture.
- Building on the legacy of Bristol's year as Green Capital, we will develop an inclusive and resilient city economy.

- Work with local communities to bring about sustainable parking and transport solutions.

8. Invest in infrastructure

- Ensure we have the right public transport and broadband infrastructure in place to enable business and people to work productively.
- Tackle the digital exclusion which financially disadvantages people and hinders their access to employment and training opportunities.

9. Support people into work

- Establish a one-stop shop to help people into work by encouraging employers to advertise jobs on one site and ensure skills support is offered.
- Develop a 'Passport for Employability' for all young people in Bristol.
- Set up a forum to help anyone return to work after maternity/paternity or care leave.

10. Establish the Bristol Bond to develop a long term capacity for civic investment in new affordable homes, infrastructure and economic and social development.

Our Homes

Bristol is facing a housing crisis. Yet decent affordable homes are the foundation of a successful city. Our aim is to create balanced communities which avoid concentrations of deprivation and the worst excesses of gentrification. If Bristol is to flourish, people must be able to afford to live here and live well. Good quality homes will help us ensure our children get the best possible start in life. It is a matter of both social justice and economic common sense.

We will...

1. Set up a council owned company to oversee housing projects across the city
 - Build 2,000 new homes – 800 affordable – a year by 2020.
 - Establish a 'Bristol Bond', allowing people to invest in local housing schemes.
2. Promote Brownfield sites across the city for Housing
3. Work with local communities

6. Give tenants a voice
 - Work with ACORN, housing associations, student unions and others to create a Bristol-wide Tenants' Federation representing and supporting tenants across the city.
 - Re-introduce tenant democracy and develop a new structure for tenant involvement with elected tenant representatives sitting on the housing management board or its equivalent.

7. Tackle Homelessness

- Minimise homelessness through early intervention and work with and support young people who are at risk of becoming homeless.
- We will adopt a “No Second Night Out” approach to reducing rough sleeping and we will work with our partners to ensure nobody has to spend another night out on the streets.

8. Support Community Initiatives

- Support Community Land Trusts, local builders, eco homes and self-builds on sites already agreed by Neighbourhood Partnerships or Plans.

9. Build and Support Stable and Diverse Communities

- Work with Bristol’s universities to provide more purpose-built quality student accommodation and ensure a proactive approach to the management and impact of student housing across the city.
- Establish a Mayoral task force to understand and shape our response to the challenges of gentrification.

10. Address the Backlog of Housing Benefit Claims

- Deal with the backlog which is causing financial difficulties and anxiety for both tenants and landlords.

Our Future

Bristol should be a city in which every child gets the best possible start in life and where opportunities and life chances are not limited by socioeconomic position. We will ensure all children gain the skills they need to build successful lives. We will work to ensure meaningful career and work choices are widely available and that organisations across the city share our ambition.

We will...

1. Ensure that children living in Bristol have the best start in life
 - Protect Childrens' Centres, bringing together early years' health and education to tackle child poverty and help children and families build resilience for life.

Our Health and Wellbeing

We want Bristol to be caring city where getting older is a positive prospect and where barriers to a healthy and satisfying life are broken down. We believe that good health shapes all aspects of life in the city, and that it is as important to look after mental health as it is to ensure physical wellbeing.

- Integrate care teams so that patients have a single point of access, so that they only need to tell their story once.

6. Prioritise mental health

- Work with the NHS to strengthen the capability of Bristol's Mental Health services, improve access, listen to service users and focus on recovery.
- Promote good mental health in the wider community, emphasising early intervention, especially for children and young people and those at greatest risk.

If we are to enjoy an equitable and prosperous future, we must decarbonise by 2050. In this way we will ensure Bristol builds a meaningful legacy from its year as European Green Capital.

We will...

1. Ensure all council-owned buildings are run on renewable energy by 2020
2. Work to become a carbon neutral city by 2050
3. Tackle fuel poverty
 - Improve home insulation, offering grants and loans to council house tenants, landlords and private home owners.
 - Work with the Bristol Energy Company and others to ensure customers get the cheapest possible tariffs through collective switching.

Our Transport

Bristol has long been under-served by an inadequate public transport network. Delivering a world class, integrated, accessible and sustainable public transport system is essential to our city's future. It underpins our broader economic prospects and our ability to connect people in the most disadvantaged communities to educational and economic opportunity. We will address the importance of getting Bristol moving, from protecting pedestrians to planning for new travel hubs that help to join up our city.

We will...

1. Get Bristol moving

- Not roll out any RPZs or 20mph zones unless communities and businesses, working through their Neighbourhood Partnerships, make an explicit request.
- Freeze the cost of RPZ permits until 2020.
- Ask all councillors to work with their Neighbourhood Partnerships to undertake a review of RPZs and 20mph zones in their areas and make recommendations on how they can be made to work.
- Review access to on-street parking across the city to free up spaces, while ensuring access for those needing it the most.
- Scrap the ban on Blue Badge Holders parking in RPZ bays and remove the charge for permits used by health and social care and other essential workers.

- Introduce an annual taxi fare review to ensure that decision-making is fully transparent before increasing or decreasing fares.
- Work with the trade to ensure taxi ranks and bays are appropriately located.

10. Improve air quality

- Replace the council's fleet with low emission and electric powered vans and cars when appropriate.

Our Culture

Bristol is renowned for its thriving and innovative cultural life. This is central not only to the city's economic future but to the way Bristolians feel about where they live. We want to celebrate, support and develop this. The challenge is to ensure that Bristol's cultural offer fully reflects our city in all its diversity and extends beyond the boundaries of the centre to enrich the lives of people across the whole city.

8. Recognise the complex legacies of industrial innovation, cultural creativity, trade and slavery that have created Bristol, and encourage education and understanding of the way Bristol's past shapes its present.
 - Support the Bristol Aerospace Centre and promote pride in Bristol's scientific and technological achievements.
 - Develop policies that foreground Bristol's role in Science and Technology, Black History, LGBT issues, Media and Music.

- Work in partnership with Bristol’s cultural institutions, such as the Colston Hall, the Watershed, Bristol Old Vic, Spike Island, Royal West of England Academy, the Arnolfini and St George’s, to ensure Bristol remains city where the arts thrive and excellence is rewarded.

Our Bristol

This election must be about dealing with the way the city works, not only within the Council but beyond it. In order that power is not concentrated in the hands of a few we must make our Mayoral system more transparent, diverse and accountable. Ensuring all voices are heard and acted upon will be key to the effective transformation of Bristol into a city in which everyone has a stake.
