1. Meeting Young Members: Attending the Equalities Academy in Bristol

It was a great pleasure to attend the Young Labour Equalities Academy in Bristol on 3rd February. I met many members for whom it was their first national Young Labour event. The energy and enthusiasm displayed by those of you who set up their own local groups and campaigns was truly inspirational. I also want to thank everyone for their contributions on the day as well as the hard work from members of committee and Labour Party Staff that went into organising the event.

2. Young Labour Policy Development Network

Last month, I launched the Young Labour Policy Development Network. The Network aims to be a space to discuss policy and increase youth participation in the Labour Party's policy making process, whilst providing members with the skills they need to write their own policy motions and speak at conferences.

The first event for the Network will most likely take place on Wednesday, 8th March at the London School of Economics. Details will be confirmed shortly – look out for the announcement on social media!

If you want to get involved or stay up to date with this project, drop me an email on sabrina.j.huck@gmail.com

3. #StopTrump Coalition and #1Daywithoutus

I organised a joint block for London Young Labour and Labour Students members to attend the emergency demo to protest Theresa May's offer of a state visit to Donald Trump in front of Downing Street. Despite being called with only 24 hours notice, the demo was a huge success and many London Young Labour members joined.

We will be out again on February 20th, the day Parliament will debate a petition calling for the withdrawal of May's invitation. There will be a rally on Parliament Sq at 6PM. Please join the Facebook event or get in touch if you would like to come or if you want to get more involved with the Stop Trump coalition movement – the organisers hold public meetings for everyone who is interested to take a more active role!

Don't hesitate to get in touch with any questions or if you want to get more involved with London Young Labour! I look forward to seeing you at the next youth event!
