“Last weeks smoke and mirrors Spending Review still leaves working people worse off and fails to address the big challenges facing the country.

The Autumn Statement has confirmed that David Cameron and George Osborne’s poor judgement is putting our future economic prospects at risk and storing up problems for the future.

George Osborne has been forced to bow to Labour pressure on his unfair tax credits but his u-turn still leaves working people worse off. He is still taking £1 billion from working families next year and over £3 billion by the end of the Parliament.

You can’t trust George Osborne to act in the best interest of the British people. He is putting politics ahead of people and his career ahead of our country. He thinks he can cut his way to No.10 but this Spending Review will cut essential day-to-day services in the present, and risk serious harm to the economy in the future.

Jack Dromey MP, attended a Carers Rights Day event.

During the visit, which came less than a week before the Comprehensive Spending Review, Jack spoke to carers about the challenges they face. Jack wanted to draw attention to the need for the Chancellor to urgently address the funding crisis that the care sector faces.

The value of unpaid care has recently been estimated by Carers UK as £132bn, or about equivalent to health spending in the Britain. At the same time the carer's allowance is only £62.10 a week, comparatively one of the lowest care support benefits, and unpaid carers' benefits are expected to be cut by around £1bn between 2011 and 2018.
