

RESILIENCE RIDES // NAVIGATING THE LA RIVER

The Los Angeles River has become a favorite destination for bicycle enthusiasts. River LA hosted a series of Resilience Rides to lead conversations and rides around the LA River with community members and leaders to share ideas for a reimaged river. The Resilience Rides were such a hit, here's how you can host your own!

The Resilience Ride guide below includes:

- A map of the LA River bike paths to plan your own Resilience Ride
- Sample questions to lead your own conversation on the river
- How to join the conversation on social media

Planning Your Resilience Ride on the LA River

The map shows the bike paths along the LA River.

Note: The bike paths run parallel to the river and are accessible year-round. For kayakers, the LA River itself can be enjoyed from Memorial Day to Labor Day only.

Leading Your Own Conversation on the River

Based on our best conversations on the river, here are some sample questions to help lead your conversations:

- 1) What is your personal connection to the Los Angeles River?
- 2) What is your biggest hope for the river?
- 3) What is your greatest concern about the river?
- 4) In your opinion, what is right way to take care of the river today and in the future?

Joining the Conversation on Social Media

Share your experience on the river! We love to see photos of your Resilience Ride on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. Be sure to tag the LA River and River LA!
