

There is a Wall of Fire Shortly Ahead Set by a British Arsonist—Will You Walk Through It?

A Message For All That Support the Presidency of the United States

In the December 2018 House of Lords Report, “British Foreign Policy in a Shifting World Order,” the British imperium targeted four nations: China, Russia, India, and the United States for intervention and disruption. Americans are familiar with our side of this targeting: the years-long Russiagate hoax run first against candidate Trump and continued against President Donald Trump. It’s now old news—MI-6’s Christopher Steele authoring the dirty dossier against Trump, a bevy of overseas informants and provocateurs, full-spectrum illegal surveillance, leaks, and information war—these were all, as James Comey said, “Crown” operations conducted in conjunction with the Obama White House.

Continuing their criminal interference in American elections, in the House of Lords Report, the British aristocracy rejects the option that Donald Trump can receive a second term as President. In sections #37-39, the Report states: “The US Administration has taken a number of high-profile unilateral foreign policy decisions that are contrary to the interests of the United Kingdom. In particular, US withdrawal from the Paris Agreement on climate change... the difficulty the UK and its allies have faced in trying to influence the US demonstrates the challenge of working with the Administration. . . Should President Trump win a second term, or a similar Administration succeed him, the damage to UK-US relations will be longer lasting . . .” That means that Imperial Britain plans to intervene again to defeat Donald Trump and they are intervening heavily, again, already. While you may conclude that that the babbling fools who comprise the Democratic candidates will never make it, the danger is in what you don’t presently see. The Lords’ financial system, comprised of the City of London and Wall Street is once again about to blow out. Following the collapse of 2008, which produced economic carnage throughout the world, the financiers simply reconstructed the same financial bubble, this time at almost twice the size of the previous one. To maintain their power, the City of London has invented a gigantic scam—the Green Finance Institute. Their intent is to de-industrialize all Europe, especially Germany, looting the revenue from tens of thousands of businesses and even personal accounts in the name of saving the planet. Additional funds will finance a new international eco-fascist movement, in which populations, under threat of force, accept deadly austerity and genocide against themselves in order to drive the population down to levels only a completely deindustrialized nations can support. Under the rubric of a youth driven “Extinction Rebellion” they plan to eliminate six billion people.

The late economist and statesman Lyndon LaRouche said there were four countries with the economic potential, which, if allied, could not only survive the collapse of the British imperial financial system but emerge from that collapse at a higher level of productivity and culture. Those nations are Russia, China, India, and the United States. LaRouche proposed that those four countries collaborate on joint development of advanced technologies, basic science, space exploration, and large scale infrastructure development. He proposed that these four countries collaborate, at the same time, on a new Bretton Woods monetary system, fixing exchange rates and allowing for issuance of massive amounts of low interest credit to support a world of sovereign nation states, reciprocally trading with one another for mutual advantage and cooperating in rapid physical development of underdeveloped nation states. This proposal would eliminate the British sponsored speculative casino economy which has ravaged the world. The expanded productivity inherent in this proposal would not only support the world’s population at a higher level, it would require that the world actually be inhabited by many, many, more people. Not surprisingly, LaRouche’s four powers—the United States, Russia, China, and India—are exactly the countries now targeted by the British imperium for war and subversion:

—Demonstrations against Putin in Russia are now occurring, orchestrated by an NGO based peace movement. These NGOs are fronts for the same Anglo-American intelligence entities and financiers, such as George Soros, who promoted the phony Russiagate lie aimed at destroying President Trump, and tore our country apart with war hysteria against Russia and against this President’s calls for peace.

—China is being targeted through the former British colony Hong Kong. Violent “democracy” demonstrations are aimed at requiring the Chinese government to respond militarily, boxing President Trump into an impossible position where he will, they hope, be forced to abandon any form of collaboration with his friend Xi Jinping, particularly as the 2020 election looms and Democrats and establishment Republicans assail the President with claims that he is not tough enough. Anyone who is not deluded knows that the financiers of the City of London and Wall Street and the corrupt politicians they enabled are the bandits who stole the American economy and moved it to China and other low wage destinations. The President himself says he does not blame China and instead singles out the globalist institutions like the WTO which our elite traitors signed us into. If China has stolen anything from the United States, it is the idea of directed credit to support basic science, productive and modern industry and transportation, and building great infrastructure projects—something which we used to do before we were convinced to become a “consumer” society.

—The British are also stoking the ancient Kashmir, Jammu, Ladakh conflict between India and Pakistan, a conflict rooted in the racial and religious divisions they originally created under colonialism.

—In the United States, we have entered “Phase Two” of the coup against the Presidency, involving the oft-repeated phrase, heard regularly in fake news, especially MSNBC and CNN, that “anyone that voted for Donald Trump or supports Donald Trump is a white supremacist.” These claims are aimed at provoking or justifying acts of violence.

Those who believe that the British Empire ceased to exist after World War II are ignorant of the fact that the City of London presently controls the world’s financial flows. Most of what formerly was Wall Street now lives in the one square mile called the City Corporation. British think tanks and intelligence agencies control the ideology factories and propaganda fonts by which populations are subdued and herded, like the ancient Romans, into the emotional shows and entertainments of the day. Their charge is to maintain, at all costs, the City’s financial power. It is that combined power which is often referred to here, erroneously, as the Deep State.

The Commonwealth, under the Queen as sovereign, comprises over 31% of the world’s population and one in three countries in the world. It controls international organized crime, the drug trade, and fosters and promotes Islamic terrorism as a force for hybrid warfare and regime change. It has deeply infiltrated the foreign policy institutions of the United States and our leading universities since the end of World War II, resulting in British originated ideas, such as the post-industrial society and anthropogenic climate change, which having become hegemonic in our society, destroyed our commitment to science and ravaged the rational potential of young minds.

The name Lyndon LaRouche has been synonymous with the idea, “crush the British Empire,” for four decades. The British imperium understands LaRouche’s plan for their destruction and for the emergence of creative human kind in their wake, just as they understood, and fiercely fought, the same intention from Franklin Roosevelt. They also understand that President Trump has flanked them with his support of the nation state, his efforts to create productive jobs in manufacturing and infrastructure, his efforts to end their wars, and his announcement of his space initiative, the plan to get back to the Moon by 2024 and then to proceed to Mars. They understand that an economically mobilized and scientifically advancing United States, a situation made possible by the President’s commitment to returning to the Moon and colonizing Mars, can lead to the necessary agreements between the four powers which will end the British Empire once and for all.

The fact that this Presidency withstood their initial full scale and reckless attack has now left them in a very exposed and very weak place, a weakness they have not experienced since the end of World War II. They are wounded but yet determined and intent on taking down anyone who gets in their way. A President, who knows he can rely on a rational and advancing population without playing Washington’s evil games, can bring this great historic change about, a change necessitated under the conditions of crisis which are about to emerge.

Domestically, we need LaRouche’s Four Laws for Economic Recovery: Glass Steagall banking separation and a national bank or similar plan for creating credit directed solely to physical productive purposes — huge modern infrastructure projects, city building and rebuilding, basic science and R&D. We need funding for the crash program in space exploration the President has already outlined, together with a crash program for fusion power. These Four Laws will drive our economy forward and create real productive jobs. The great adventure of space will fire the imaginations and minds of our young people. Internationally, the Four Powers should begin conferring on establishing a new Bretton Woods monetary system and on joint plans to both explore space and fully develop our earth. In this changed world, no one will listen to the formerly powerful anymore. This great change will be, in addition, for this President, the sweetest justice against the foe who set out to destroy him. Will you help us create the community of citizens, ferociously supporting these policies, so that we might bring this great and wonderful change about?
