, the representatives from the [areas without branches]/[Constituencies] to be elected annually by and from the membership of the [area]/[Constituency] by either a general meeting or a postal ballot;

Background Briefing

In areas with branches the two representatives are elected annually at the AGM. If there is no branch and therefore no AGM a fair and transparent process is needed to select the representatives on the Executive.

The options in square brackets are simply to reflect the decision made regarding Amendment A to this clause.

Note that the default number of representatives in areas without branches in the Model Local Party Constitution is 1.
