

News and blogs

Homepage news section

The homepage news section displays excerpt text from blog posts from your page with the slug 'news'.

You can also choose one blog post to feature with an image or video, and more text. You can do this by tagging your chosen blog post 'sys_home_featured_press'.

Blog content

The Lib Dem digital team have produced a new blog template for local sites.

This is activated by switching off the side bar in the settings of a blog post and tagging the post blog_hero

The summary text is drawn from the page excerpt, which can be editing under settings > social media

Author and Published date are used for by-line.

Hero image can be inserted using the image assets method below, or by uploading a 1200x400px image with the prefix hero_ to the files section of the page.

Image assets

The Lib Dem digital team have also provided a library of images in the correct format for blog pages and social media images:

www.libdems.org.uk/image-assets

These can be inserted into blog posts using tags.

Tagging a blog post hero_wind will use that image as the main image within the blog post.

Tagging a blog post with key_swinson will automatically apply that images as the social media image.
