STANDING UP AND WORKING FOR YOU

There are over 200 parliamentary seats across the country where the winning margin is less than the voting population of ethnic minorities in that seat. We need to work harder to reach out to them.

Ethnic minorities are an incredibly important voting block that the Liberal Democrats are not talking to effectively. We need to represent and stand up for ethnic minority communities.

We have a good internal structure for diversity, but it is underutilised and can be better activated to facilitate change. I will work with the party, members and the broader ethnic minority communities to win more votes for the Liberal Democrats.

MY COMMITMENT TO YOU

- Use the internal party structure to facilitate change and awareness on ethnic minority issues
- Develop a suitable message for the ethnic minorities to enable outreach in communities, which could also be used in campaigning by local parties
- Work internally with partners to implement the Alderdice report
- Help develop ethnic minority candidates so they can ably contest for all types of party roles, and promote the Liberal Democrats to external bodies
