Dear Friend,

We're standing to be Chair of Liberal Youth - this is our plan:

Activate our Membership

We want to get you joining in campaigning with us across the country. That's why we'll host training weekends across the UK, including inviting young Liberal Democrat councillors to talk about their experiences and continue #WinningHere to support devolved and local elections next May, with a particular focus on improving diversity among Liberal Democrat elected representatives. We'll also fund New Members Days and expand Liberal Youth England's branch development fund across the UK.

Be Accessible

We want you to do as much as you want within the party, so we'll help organise & fund Federal Conference accommodation and fund travel costs to Federal Conference for those most in need, making it more affordable to attend. We'll also seek the advice of you, Liberal Democrat Women, Ethnic Minority Liberal Democrats, Liberal Democrat Disability Association, LGBT+ Lib Dems and other organisations and do everything we can to make our minority members welcome, and to encourage them to stand for election.

Deliver value for money

Liberal Youth needs to deliver value for money for our members; that's why we'll make sure if Liberal Youth funds a member of staff, they'll provide the skills that we need, and not just another HQ staff member without accountability and oversight. We'll also make Liberal Youth more accountable to you by publishing our minutes online.

Charlie is currently studying Political and Legal Theory at York. He first joined the party in 2011 during the Welsh election campaign, and has since held roles in the party ranging from Vice Chair and Treasurer of Liberal Youth Wales, a member of the Welsh party's National Executive, and national co-Vice Chair of Liberal Youth. His interests include not playing sports and being a miserable git.
