

MEET NINA RODRIGUEZ

Available for Adoption

When Nina is out and about in the cattery, you can usually find her right by your side. Nina loves attention and is a very affectionate girl. She loves to chase toys, climb high, and will even do tricks for treats! After a long day of playing, Nina enjoys curling up on your lap. She will knead and purr her way right into your heart. Nina is currently wearing a cone as she has some allergies that make her a little itchy. She is looking for a forever home to continue helping and treating her allergies. Nina does well with other cats and would be okay with having another feline friend at home. Nina has come a long way from when she started at LHS, she is ready to meet her forever family!
