HIGHLIGHTS

- » Guided walks and bike rides along the proposed 'connector'
- » Fun activities for kids (and adults)
- » Learn about the city's "Greenlinks" program & the Emerald Network
- » Share your opinions and ask questions about the project

The ROXBURY TO FENWAY CONNECTOR is a proposed 1/4 mile family-friendly bicycle and pedestrian connection between two of Boston's most iconic greenways - Southwest Corridor in Roxbury and the Emerald Necklace in the Fenway. The connection is a missing "Green Link" in the regional network of greenways called the Emerald Network.
