

Living Wage for Families Campaign Terms of Reference: Employers Committee Member

About us

Our goal is for every working British Columbian to make a living wage.

The Living Wage for Families Campaign calculates the Living Wage for communities across BC, certifies employers that pay a living wage to their staff and contractors, and advocates for complementary government policies that would help families make ends meet.

New Employers Committee members

We are looking for Living Wage Employers to join our Employers Committee to review applications and help certify new employers.

In particular, we are looking for individuals who have an eye for detail and understanding of HR policies and procedures.

We strongly encourage and welcome applications from diverse backgrounds and equity seeking groups.

Benefits of joining our Employers Committee

- ✓ Certify new Living Wage Employers
- ✓ Connect with other Living Wage Employers
- ✓ The opportunity to shape Living Wage for Families Campaign policies and procedures

Role of Employers Committee Members

- Review, provide strategic feedback on, and decide on approvals of applications from employers wishing to become certified as Living Wage Employers.
- Provide input into the policies and procedures of the Living Wage Employer program, including certification criteria and other developments as needed.
- Guide and support the work of the staff organizer regarding new employer campaigns and the strategic direction of the Living Wage Employers program.
- Support prospective Living Wage Employers, as needed, by offering guidance on how to become Living Wage Employers.
- Advocate for the Living Wage Employers program among other employers.

Time Commitment

Approximately two hours every two months – to review all new Living Wage applications and attend the Employers Committee meeting to discuss applications.

If interested, please contact:

Anastasia French, Campaign Organiser – anastasia@firstcallbc.org, 236 979 6062