Justin Turner

After 7 years as a personal chef for former Houston Rocket and current NBA Champion Shane Battier, Justin Turner took his 18 years of restaurant experience and gambled on Houston's growing food truck industry creating Bernie's Burger Bus spring of 2010.

Justin's goal was to start his own burger restaurant, the concept being a name instantly familiar and lighthearted. Taking a page from his grandfather, Bernie, who named his business ventures after beloved family members, Bernie's Burger Bus was born. Sticking to his culinary beliefs to differentiate himself from his fellow burger competitors, Justin creates scratch-made condiments, grinds his own beef, hand-cuts potato and sweet potato fries, and sources buns from the finest local baker, all to deliver truly unique, handmade burgers to his fellow Houstonians.
