PRESIDENTS’ REPORT

LWVMD Board had its retreat and first Board meeting on August 7 and like many of your local boards, we are in the transition phase. It was exciting to see the enthusiasm that your new Board has about ideas for the upcoming year. We have filled most of our portfolios.

Here are a list of Board members and their responsibilities:

Elaine Apter and Richard Willson: Co-Presidents

Niecy Chambers – Membership

Melanie Cox – Program

Elizabeth Demulling – State Board Letter and Voter

Joyce Duckett and Joyce Woodford – Fund Raising

Andrea Gruhl – LWVNCA Rep/ Constitution

Day
Carolyn Hetterick – Treasurer
Lois Hybl – Action
Deborah Mitchell & Richard Willson –
Database and Website
Betsy Singer – Environment
Ralph Watkins and Barbara Crain – Voters
Service

You can contact them by using the email address of their first initial + last name @lwvmd.org: e.g. Melanie Cox would be: mcox@lwvmd.org. Feel free to contact us as one of the main goals the LWVMD Board reaffirmed at the retreat is our commitment to reaching out and supporting the local Leagues.

We are also working on setting up regular phone calls between local League Presidents and Richard and myself. We are considering this for treasurers, membership chairs, and other areas where we might want communications among local leaders and Board members. We are open to and welcome any suggestions you might have for us. If you have not sent the LWVMD office a list of your latest officers by filling in the spreadsheets, our Administrative Director, Ashley Oleson sent you, please do so (or ask around and find out which past officer got your email!). Please email the office at stateoffice@lwvmd.org if you need to request access. We would like to get an updated directory out ASAP.

Hold the Date

We have two events coming up in September. The first one is our annual Constitution Day celebration on Monday September 17. A flyer has been prepared and circulated. It is also available on the LWVMD.org webpage. We encourage all of you to join us for our discussion of The Fourth Amendment and Electronic Surveillance.

The second event is our Fall workshop on September Saturday, September 23. We will be sending more specific information shortly.

Here's to a great 2017-18 year!

LWVMD Board Meeting Highlights, August 7, 2017

Our Retreat on August 7, was a huge success. We outlined many prospects for the League this year. Portfolio Chairs were assigned and work on our first Fall Workshop was discussed. Financially we are in good shape, and Committee Chairs are anxious to begin a new year. We will be using Google Docs and updating our websites to make contacts with the Local Leagues easier.

Legislative Priorities Season Is Here Again

The General Assembly convenes again on January 10, 2018. This year some committees have already been meeting and others will begin again in September. For example, two education commissions are meeting during the interim, and are scheduled to report back to the General Assembly in December. You can see links to their schedules and papers from previous meetings near the bottom of the General Assembly homepage.

Whatever comes out of these intersession committee meetings, we need to be ready with our own legislative ideas and establish our priorities. In order to be sure that all local Leagues participate in the process of setting our priorities, we ask that the first round of suggestions be submitted to me at lhybl@lwvmd.org by Tuesday, September 26, 2017. Once we have this first round of suggestions, we will compile them and send them back to the local Leagues by October 1 so that everyone is able to see all suggestions and, if they choose, local Leagues may revise their final list of suggested legislative priorities. Any changes to your priorities for the second round should be submitted to me by October 31. Once the second round of suggestions is compiled, the State Board will adopt our statewide priorities at our November board meeting and publish a leaflet for use with our legislators in their home districts or in Annapolis.

What Topics Should Local Leagues Consider?

Your suggestions may be on any topic on which we have a national or state consensus. Our national LWVUS Positions are provided on the LWVUS website and state LWVMD positions may be found in Study and Action on the LWVMD website. Another factor we consider in adopting priorities is whether we have a reporter who can follow the issue and write for Report from State Circle (RSC). Check past issues here to see if we have had a reporter on the issue. We are looking for new reporters for Firearms Control and Transparency in Government. Following the legislation and writing about bills for RSC is something members can do mostly from home.

For specific suggestions, please review our legislative priorities for 2017: Making Democracy Work: Redistricting Reform, Improved Voter Access; Protecting the Environment: Mitigating Climate Change, Reliance on Clean, Renewable Energy, Safe Water for All; Promoting Social and Economic Justice: Maintaining the Safety Net for Vulnerable Populations, Corrections and Sentencing Reform, Adequate Public Transportation Funding). Also, consult the Maryland General Assembly's summary of legislation that passed or failed in 2017 by clicking here >>> "The 90 Day Report." The report may provide some suggestions for your consideration, especially among ideas that failed but we may want to raise again.

You may also look to the news and our coalition partners, like Tame the Gerrymander. Representatives on the recent call with Maryland Nonprofits discussed the need to mitigate the effect of decisions in Washington on health and social programs. They also discussed the Clean Energy Jobs Initiative to ensure that 50% of Maryland's Electricity comes from renewable sources by the year 2030; expand clean energy workforce development; fund clean energy businesses owned by women and people of color; and phase out incentives for trash incineration.

Public transportation advocates want additional revenue, while education advocates are also pushing for additional funds for more equitable education funding formulas to update the Thornton model. The upcoming state primary elections bring pressures to propose tax cuts, while human services providers worry about cuts to their programs and the structural deficit.

Another factor to consider is action motions passed at the LWVMD Convention in June:

Action Motion on Education Funding Proposed by Lois Hybl. Because the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education (Kirwan Commission) is scheduled to make recommendations in December to the General Assembly to replace the Bridge to Excellence (Thornton Formula), I move that we make a special effort to testify before the commission and General Assembly in support of raising the foundation formula to an adequate level with appropriate weights for compensatory education, special education, and English Language Learners, the adoption of a method of determining a county's wealth that reflects its ability to raise funds to support education, the inclusion of preschool in the formula, and support of programs to address concentrated poverty.

Action Motion on Racism Proposed by the League of Women Voters of Anne Arundel County. A principle of the League of Women Voters states that responsible government should share in the solution of social problems that affect the general welfare. Hate crimes and other demonstrations of racial bias terrorize and destabilize our communities, and contradict the fundamental premise of human equality in our Declaration of Independence. We request that LWVMD press our elected officials and educators to publicly condemn racism and acts of hate, and actively support efforts to eliminate bias and improve understanding and tolerance, particularly among our youth.

If we do not have a national or state consensus on a topic of great interest to League members, they may suggest that the topic be studied when we consider program planning as we do each January. League members who have questions about our consensus positions may contact me at lhybl@lwvmd.org.

Campaign to Increase Clean, Renewable Energy in Maryland

For years, LWVMD has supported legislation to improve the use of clean, renewable energy in Maryland. The Renewable Portfolio Standard (RPS) law is a major tool designed to incentivize development of new and clean sources of renewable energy like wind and solar to reduce greenhouse gases and other hazardous air and water pollution from the use of fossil fuels.

In 2004, Maryland adopted the first RPS law with a goal of ten percent of the energy coming from clean, renewable sources by the year 2019. Fast forward from 2004 to 2017. After overcoming a veto of legislation to increase the RPS during the 2017 General Assembly session, the current law requires that Maryland utilities now get 25 percent of the energy portfolio from clean sources by 2020.

The 2018 General Assembly will see additional action on this front with the new Maryland Clean Energy Jobs Initiative (MCEJI). The plan builds on previous success by asking the legislature to increase Maryland's RPS to 50 percent renewable electricity by 2030. This increase would reduce 8.1 million metric tons of CO<sub>2</sub>, the carbon equivalent of taking 1.7 million cars off the road each year. Significantly, MCEJI also calls for phasing out existing incentives for trash incineration that exist under Maryland's current RPS law since incineration is renewable, but not clean.

The MCEJI also features investing in clean-energy workforce development while targeting economically distressed parts of the state, and individuals who have historically experienced barriers to employment. MCEJI would also make more funding available for investment capital and loans to help minority and women-owned businesses enter and grow within the clean energy economy.

The League is a member of The Maryland Climate Coalition (MDCC), which is sponsoring the MCEJI. A press conference about the Clean Energy Jobs Initiative is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 13, 2017 in Baltimore. More information will be available from LWVMD in fall 2017.

On August 26, 1920, the 19th Amendment was added to the U.S. Constitution, and women in America finally gained the legal right to vote.

At the behest of Rep. Bella Abzug (D-NY), the U.S. Congress designated August 26 as "Women's Equality Day" in 1971. The date was selected to commemorate the 1920 certification of the 19th Amendment to the Constitution.
