

Motivation Letter for the LYMEC Delegation to the ALDE Party Congress

With the COVID-19 pandemic, the challenges posed by digitalisation, namely, the inviolability of private data being at stake and the public becoming ever more polarised, ongoing paradigm shifts on the geopolitical scale, the slow, yet inevitable march of an ever-changing climate, inequality in our European society, our generation truly has a lot of challenges lying ahead. These are the challenges that have shaped and will be shaping the political discourse for the upcoming years. While crises and momentary challenges come and go, with each new development of any kind bringing about expected and unexpected change, something constant remains: the need of the European Union to be at the vanguard and the forefront in finding creative and effective ways to engage with an everchanging world remains. However, to do that, we must firstly do our utmost in order to reforge the strong belief and recapture the idealism that made the European Union in the first place.

That is precisely why I seek to become part of the LYMEC delegation at the ALDE Party Congress: to contribute to solutions based on data, with well researched positions and a diplomatic and tactful demeanour in order to truly find consensus between all the parties involved which seek to create a more liberal Europe.

The Lithuanian Liberal Youth has been actively engaged in LYMEC for past couple of years, with LLY becoming increasingly more active in submitting resolutions and seeking to improve the policy that the MOs of LYMEC have agreed upon. My commitment to the liberal ideals motivates me to submit my application for the LYMEC delegation at the ALDE Party Congress, where I wish to contribute to the young liberal voice being heard as clearly, yet as diplomatically, as possible.

Umberto Masi