Time is running out to buy back the ABC site

Dear Lord Mayor,

I am writing to ask you to work with the State government to buy back the ABC site at 600 Coronation Drive, Toowong for the people of Brisbane.

The site is on the market and Expressions of Interest close in just under a week, on Wednesday 30 September. The State Valuer-General has estimated the site is worth $31.5 million.

This is a once-in-a-decade opportunity to bring the ABC site back into public hands. It has sat derelict since 2006, after it was sold by the Federal government to private developers in 2013 for $20 million.

I acknowledge that Council has publicly confirmed it is interested in buying back part of the site as a landing point for the proposed Toowong-West End bridge. I have written to the State Treasurer proposing a 50/50 split, meaning the purchase would cost Council far less than most road-widening projects.

The ABC site is the last remaining opportunity for significant riverfront public space in Toowong and surrounding suburbs, which have seen runaway population growth and development despite the progressive loss of public parks and facilities.

During the Depression in the 1930s, the State government built new schools around Brisbane and the Storey Bridge to help get Queenslanders working. A new riverside park, including a green bridge to West End, a public pool, gardens and a community centre would be a job-creating public works project on the same scale. It would be a city-making landmark: a new South Bank for the west side.

I urge Council to invest in an asset that all Brisbane residents and visitors could enjoy for generations to come. Please do not hesitate to contact my office on 07 3737 4100 if I can be of assistance.

Kind regards,

Michael Berkman MP
