

During National Crime Victims' Rights Week,
you are invited to attend a

Great Falls Crime Victim Forum

Hosted by the Montana Attorney General's Office

April 12
12:00pm - 1:30pm

University of Great Falls
McLaughlin Center, Providence Forum
1301 20th Street South

Montana Attorney General Tim Fox invites you to attend a special forum in Great Falls. Those who have been victims of crime and are willing to speak publicly are invited to share their experiences. Attorney General Fox, officials from the Montana Department of Justice and local law enforcement agencies, and victim advocates will be in attendance.

- What was your experience with the justice system?
- As a victim, how were you treated by law enforcement and criminal justice personnel?
- Based on your personal experience, how do you think the justice system can better serve victims of crime?

For more information or to RSVP, please contact Anastasia Burton at 406-444-9869 or aburton@mt.gov.
