Environmental Conservation Scholarship Scholarship Guidelines and Application

2019-2020 Academic Year

Presented by Morongo Basin Conservation Association

MBCA awarded the first two of five annual scholarships in 2017 and 2018 through a generous bequest from Ruth Denison, a long-time supporter of the association. Ruth Denison was the first Buddhist teacher in the United States to lead an all-women's retreat for Buddhist meditation and instruction. Her center, Dhamma Dena Desert Vipassana Center is located in Joshua Tree, California. This bequest fulfills one of MBCA's long standing goals to increase the organization's support of environmental education for local students who plan to attend a university or college and prepare for employment in careers related to environmental or conservation work.

This year, the third Ruth Denison Environmental Conservation Scholarship of $500.00 will be presented by MBCA to one qualified student to be applied to tuition and fees for the 2019-2020 academic year.

Please review the following Ruth Denison Environmental Conservation Scholarship guidelines thoroughly before completing this application.

Applicants who do not meet the minimum eligibility requirements at the time of application will not be considered. Applications that are incomplete or received after the postmark deadline also will not be considered.

Scholarship Guidelines

Criteria for scholarship award selection:

- Scholastic achievement;
- Demonstrated motivation to pursue education and a professional career with emphasis on environmental conservation or in a similar field;
