There was further discussion about having a subsidence study done by the USGS. CS mentioned a discussion she had with a USGS staff scientist who is working on subsidence in the Mojave Water Agency service area. SS further reported that Cadiz is trying to find additional customers for their water in the Orange County area, specifically Orange County Water District, who apparently declined due to the starting price of $1,500 per Acre-Ft.

Food For Thought

5 main points used by activists to defeat Koch attack on solar in Florida:

Lesson 1: Conservatives can be big clean energy boosters — if you sell it right

Lesson 2: Sometimes it's not helpful to mention climate change

Lesson 3: It's good to have a common enemy

Lesson 4: Be nimble enough to change course when needed

Lesson 5: Grassroots organizing can beat big money
