Fenton-based Luna Power Systems offers a highly efficient alternative to conventional fans and expensive air movement systems. Luna Power’s ductless Equality-Air Thermal Recovery Systems — destratification fan systems that are suitable for commercial and industrial settings— increase comfort and reduce energy waste by equalizing the temperature difference between floors and ceilings.

These patented destratification fans have helped customers save between 30-50% or more on heating and cooling, with ROI’s of 18-36 months. Members receive:
- ✓ free site visit and assessment
- ✓ 20% discount on de-stratification fan units
