God’s Pattern for Revival and Spiritual Awakening ................. Inside Back Cover
LET’S SEEK THE LORD TOGETHER

Those who feared the LORD talked with each other, and the LORD listened and heard. A scroll of remembrance was written in his presence concerning those who feared the LORD and honored his name (Mal. 3:16).

Today we’re facing a period of moral and spiritual decline that is perhaps more rapid and widespread than ever in our history. Almost everywhere we go, we hear churches and people cry out for revival. They are saying that what they are experiencing is so bad, so dry, and so empty that they want a fresh touch from God. They want to experience God in the ways God’s people experienced His mighty power and presence in the Scriptures and in history. Some are experiencing a fresh breeze of God’s Spirit. Small mercy drops are falling in some localities. But many are saying, “We don’t know what to do.” Their heart cry is: “Is there a word from the Lord? What does God say we need to do?”

God’s Word has an answer for us. God has revealed Himself and His ways as He has worked with His people down through the ages. He has spoken clearly about His expectations and standards. He has revealed principles and described examples. He stands ready to pour out times of refreshing on the dry and thirsty ground of our lives. But He’s waiting on a people who are willing to pay the price of surrender and obedience to His will and His ways. He’s waiting on a people who will return with their whole heart to a love relationship with their Creator and Savior. Will you be such a person? Will you join with others who are willing to be such persons?

In Malachi 3:16 we read that “those who feared the LORD talked with each other, and the LORD listened and heard.” We’ve prepared this devotional guide to facilitate that kind of conversation and prayer. We want God’s people to study His Word about revival and spiritual awakening. We want to help you talk about His will and His ways. We want to assist you in seeing His standards and choosing to return to Him. We want to encourage you to pray together with others to “spur one another on toward love and good deeds” (Heb. 10:24).

Using This Devotional Guide

Spend time daily with the Lord. Each day use one devotional message to examine God’s Word, understand God’s pattern, and be encouraged by God’s activity in the past. Take time to pray as you seek the kind of relationship with God through which He can revive you and use you for revival and awakening. Once each week, join others in “Seeking God Together for Revival in the Land.” Days 7, 14, 21, and 28 will guide your time of talking and praying together.
This devotional guide has been designed to make your job as a leader as simple as possible. Invite group members to participate by taking a book and beginning to read the daily messages. Days 7, 14, 21, and 28 are set aside for your small-group session. Notice on pages 18-19 (for example) that instructions are given to guide the small-group session. You may choose to follow those instructions exclusively or supplement them with your own questions and prayer suggestions. Below are some additional suggestions that may be helpful.

Introductory Session. On page 64 you will find a list of additional resources. The Leader Kit has an introductory videotape with Henry Blackaby over viewing God’s Pattern for Revival and Spiritual Awakening. You can use that message as an introductory session and then distribute this book to members who will then begin the devotional study.

Churchwide Emphasis. Pastors may choose to introduce this message to their entire church. Preach messages on biblical revivals, God’s mission of world redemption and our part in it, how to know when you’ve departed from God, the nature and necessity of repentance for revival, and so forth. The Fresh Encounter paperback book (0-8054-6368-2) has an extensive section to guide spiritual leaders in preparing a church for revival and guiding them to return to the Lord. It would provide additional content and illustration to supplement what members will be reading in this devotional. This book provides valuable insights on guiding a group in returning to the Lord that would be beneficial to you as you lead your group.

Follow-up Options. Churches or groups wishing to continue this pursuit of God for revival may want to consider one or more of the following:

1. Fresh Encounter Weekend. Contact www.blackaby.org for information or assistance in conducting a church renewal weekend.
2. Study of Member Books 1 and 2 will take members further in understanding the message and responding to God’s plumb line in Scripture. The six video plumb line messages from Henry Blackaby may be especially helpful in guiding people to return to the Lord.

Multiplication of the Message. Revival in our land will require many people and churches returning to a right relationship with God. Each session invite members to practice drawing the diagram from the inside back cover of the book from memory. Divide the group into pairs and ask one or both members to explain the pattern as far as they have studied it (Session 1: overview it all; Session 2: Phases 1-2; Session 3: Phases 1-4; Session 4: Phases 1-7). Encourage members to watch for opportunities to share God’s pattern with others and encourage them to seek the Lord together for revival. Watch for opportunities for your members to share testimonies with other groups or churches and invite them to start praying for revival and spiritual awakening.
