Neal is a wonderful guy-- was my law school roommate; did the 72 hour effort in Ohio for us and was part of Lawyers for Bush; is incredibly smart. Would you mind checking on this? He is a true loyalist. (And a good, strong conservative)

Ken - I interviewed last week at DOJ with Robert McCallum to serve as Principal Deputy Associate Attorney General, a spot helps oversee most of the Department's litigating divisions. We hit it off and I understand that the White House - perhaps Political Affairs - is reviewing the appointment now. If I could impose upon you to put in a good word, I would be immensely grateful. The position seems a perfect fit with my experience and, having just finished off a couple large matters, now is a great time for me to make the leap to public service. I'm seriously grateful for all your help and very much hope that I am not imposing too much. My cv is attached for reference. Many, many thanks, Neil
