

YPCDN Eldoret Chapter

4 pics one word is a game that has grown over the years to challenge and engage a great number of participants. It is a game with the unique ability to correlate four other wisely different pictures and draw a meaning full similarity. Pictures have the ability to not only engage but speak volumes to a vast population. They have the silent power of being an enticing tool in communication in the world today.

We let ours speak about cancer.

The Joy of learning is as indispensable in study as breathing is in running. "As a team we hope to develop a pool of knowledge, dispensable to those around us and be a lead point to cancer awareness in our community. "

Dilys Kemunto,

Team Leader.

"No one chooses cancer. Eat healthy, exercise and do regular checkups. I believe that together we can fight cancer."

#wecancervive

Michael Maina

"We create awareness for cancer because it's a leading cause of morbidity and mortality worldwide and has 70% of its deaths occurring in low and middle income countries such as ours. Most cancers have a chance of cure if diagnosed early and appropriately managed."

Cancer can take away all my physical abilities. It cannot touch my mind, it cannot touch my soul – Jim Valvano.

Nelson Mandela & Sandra Kemunto

YPCDN-Eldoret Team

“Let’s get off the couch and choose to keep fit. Let’s cycle to work, walk to the next office and deliver the information instead of sending mails at the convenience of our desks. Let’s cut down on social media time, limit intake of fat and sugar, and embrace green leafy vegetables, cereals and legumes in our daily diet.

Let’s play an active role in the fight against cancer.”

Everlyne Achieng’

