Welcome to the 29th Annual Northeast Dairy Production Medicine Symposium

This meeting offers a great list of topics & speakers, including Paul Fricke and Ray Nebel on new reproduction strategies for cows and heifers, Geoff Dahl on dry cow cooling, John Ferry on controlling the controllable, Whitney Knauer on socially raised heifer performance, Angel Abuelo discussing oxidative stress and immunity, and a group of progressive dairy producers will share their thoughts on what their future farm will likely need from a veterinarian. Michele Payn will lead our Friday workshop which will help us "reach across the plate" to honestly explore food concerns and the critical connection from farm gate to food plate. See the schedule on the reverse for details. Sign up before Feb 21st to get the best prices on registration and rooms!

The mission of the Northeast Dairy Production Medicine Symposium, Inc is to contribute to the well being of our dairy producers by providing a unique educational experience for dairy oriented veterinarians and veterinary students. The objective of this experience is to provide motivation, information, discernment, and support for the practice of dairy production medicine.
