INSERT NAME OF RELEVANT INDIVIDUAL
- Deal with a disclosure of abuse from a child, young person or vulnerable adult in line with the guidance in Appendix Two - you must inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead immediately, and provide a written account as soon as possible.

2. Our Responsibilities for Safeguarding

2.1 Sponsorship Group

The officers/committee/core group (delete as applicable) of INSERT GROUP NAME have overall responsibility for ensuring that the safeguarding policy is implemented, along with the Lead Sponsor organization if this is external to the sponsorship group.

The officers/committee/core group (delete as applicable) will ensure that:

- The group has a safeguarding policy that meets the requirements of the government's Community Sponsorship, Resettlement, Asylum Support & Integration Directorate
- The group operates appropriate checks on volunteers with safeguarding responsibilities
- At least one senior member of the group acts as a DSL
- The DSL attends the appropriate training session as advised by the the government's Community Sponsorship, Resettlement, Asylum Support & Integration Directorate
- Arrangements are put in place in the event of a complaint against the DSL by the refugee family or vice versa
- All other volunteers are made aware of the organisation's arrangements for child protection and safeguarding of vulnerable adults;
- INSERT GROUP NAME reviews its policies/procedures regularly and remedies any deficiencies or weaknesses brought to its attention without delay; and

2.2 Safer Selection

INSERT GROUP NAME takes seriously and has policies in place to ensure that its volunteers working with refugee children, young people and vulnerable adults (in particular the DSL) are selected safely. Measures to ensure this include:

- Scrutinising individuals who volunteer for these roles, by verifying identify and qualifications, checking employment or volunteering history and obtaining references. (This includes people acting as interpreters for the group).
- Where necessary, and on guidance from the government's Community Sponsorship, Resettlement, Asylum Support & Integration Directorate individuals (in particular the DSL) will be required to undertake appropriate checks through the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS).

2.3 The Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL)

The DSL of INSERT GROUP NAME is INSERT NAME OF RELEVANT INDIVIDUAL. S/he has lead responsibility and accountability for safeguarding within the group.

- The DSL will be responsible for liaising on safeguarding matters with the local authority, the local police safer neighbourhood team and making contact with local refugee/faith groups (where appropriate)
- The DSL will undertake regular (monthly/bi monthly) reviews of vulnerability issues within the sponsored refugee families. Written records of these reviews will be kept in secure files.
- If and when there are safeguarding concerns about any member of the sponsored family the DSL will decide what steps should be taken and advise the group on escalation steps, such as informing the Community Sponsorship, Resettlement, Asylum Support & Integration Directorate and/or bringing in expert, outside agencies.
- Safeguarding and child protection information will be dealt with in a confidential manner. The DSL may have to act through an interpreter but in that case the interpreter should be aware of the need for confidentiality.
- Other members of the group will be informed of relevant details only when the DSL feels their having knowledge of a situation will improve their ability to deal with an individual and / or family. A written record will be made of what information has been shared with whom, and when.
- All written records will be stored on secure files in a central place separate from project material. Where files are necessary, individual files will be kept for individual. The DSL will not keep family files. Files will be kept for at least the sponsorship period and beyond that in line with current data legislation and guidance.
- Access to these records by volunteers other than the DSL will be restricted, and a written record will be kept of who has had access to the records and when.
- Parents will be made aware of information held on their children and kept up to date regarding any concerns or developments by the appropriate members of staff. General communications will give due regard to which adults have parental responsibility.
- The following principle will apply: The DSL will not disclose to a parent any information held on a child if this would put the child at risk of significant harm.
- The DSL will have overall responsibility for liaising with outside agencies, including the police and the Home Office, in the unlikely event that the refugee family are in regarded as open to radicalization (See Appendix 4 and 5)

If or when the DSL steps down from their role within INSERT GROUP NAME, there should be a full face to face handover/exchange of information with the new DSL – or suitable alternative arrangements will be made.

3. Who We Have Connected With About Good Safeguarding

INSERT GROUP NAME has individuals within the group who have experience and expertise in safeguarding from their professional careers or other volunteer activities.

LIST AS APPLICABLE

However, we recognize that we need to make links with agencies and bodies in our locality with experience and expertise in safeguarding, in those working with refugee

We have therefore made contact with the following to inform of our application to sponsor a refugee family

Local Authority Children and Adult Services Team	Include name here	Include contact details
Police Safer Neighbourhood Team	Include name here	Include contact details
Include local or national refugee or other agencies with expertise in safeguarding	Include name here	Include contact details

In the event of safeguarding issues arising in the refugee family that we are sponsoring we can go for advice as to how to act appropriately from these contacts.

4. What We Do When We Are Concerned

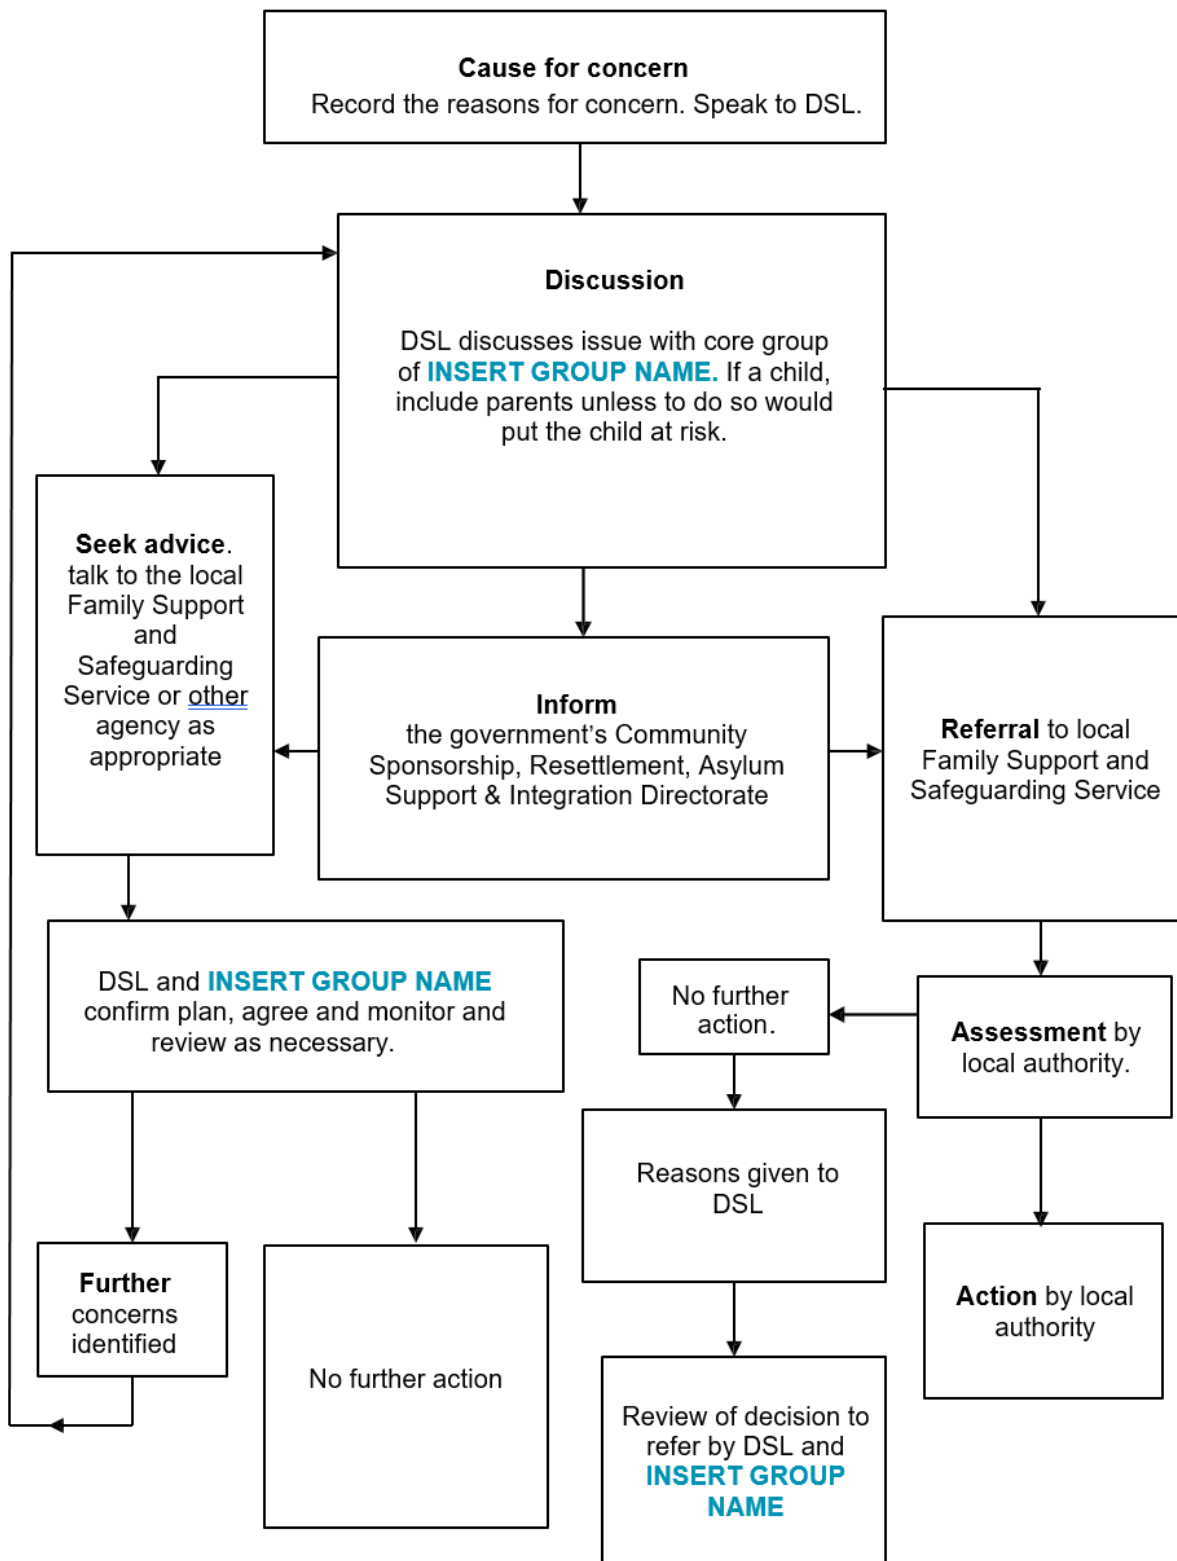

Where risk factors are present but there is no evidence of a particular risk then our DSL will advise INSERT GROUP NAME on preventative work that can be done within the group to help the refugee child, young person or vulnerable adult

If a child is involved the DSL will talk to parents, sharing the organisation’s concern about the young person’s vulnerability and how the family and group can work together to reduce the risk.

If the risk seems greater, the DSL on behalf of INSERT GROUP NAME will take steps to refer the individual concerned to the appropriate agency as outlined in Section 3. This includes concerns about a young person who is affected by the behaviour of a parent or other adult in their household.

See Flow Chart on next page for quick reference.

4.1 Flow Chart

Appendices

Appendix One: Indicators of Abuse and Trauma

1. Issues Arising From Refugee Experience

Refugees may have undergone many stressful experiences, including imprisonment, torture, loss of property, malnutrition, physical assault, extreme fear, rape, and loss of livelihood, as well as the stress of living in camps or precarious situations, and the stress of being resettled. It is also common for refugees to suffer from many physical and psychological symptoms and disorders, partly because of the stressful experiences they endure.

Assessing the variety of experiences, symptoms, and disorders refugees suffer from is challenging. Furthermore, differences in language and culture can act as a barrier against treatment. When refugees resettle to a host country, it is usually in a place that's not of their choosing. Refugees must adapt to a new place and language under uncertain circumstances and face uncertain futures. Re-establishing a home and identity, while trying to juggle the tasks of daily life is yet another challenging experience refugees must endure.

Refugees are at a higher risk than the general population for a variety of mental health disorders. Some studies show refugees are at 10 times the risk of post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), depression, chronic pain, and other physical complaints. Exposure to torture is the strongest instigator of PTSD among refugees.

Disillusionment, demoralization and depression often occur due to migration-associated losses, or later, when initial hopes and expectations of relocating are not realized. Events that evoke memories of past trauma and loss can contribute to the emergence of anxiety, depression, or PTSD.

Though mental health disorders like anxiety, depression, and PTSD are not uncommon, the way in which they sprout and manifest in refugees can be complicated and atypical. Symptoms and signs include (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- Inability to sleep and nightmares
- Social withdrawal/unwillingness to interact:
- Angry or violent outbursts;
- Drug or alcohol abuse

2. Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child or vulnerable adult's basic physical and/or psychological needs, such that it is likely to result in the serious impairment of the health or development.

Neglect with a child may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to:

- Provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment);
- Protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger;
- Ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or
- Ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment.

It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs. The same indicators can apply to a vulnerable adult.

The following may be indicators of neglect (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- Constant hunger;
- Stealing, scavenging and/or hoarding food;
- Frequent tiredness or listlessness;
- Frequently dirty or unkempt;
- Often poorly or inappropriately clad for the weather;
- Poor attendance or often late for organizational activities;
- Poor concentration;
- Affection or attention seeking behaviour;
- Illnesses or injuries that are left untreated;
- Failure to achieve developmental milestones, for example growth, weight;
- Failure to develop intellectually or socially;

3. Physical Abuse

Physical abuse may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces illness in a child or the person in their care.

The following may be indicators of physical abuse (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- Multiple bruises in clusters, or of uniform shape;
- Bruises that carry an imprint, such as a hand or a belt;
- Bite marks;
- Round burn marks;

- Multiple burn marks and burns on unusual areas of the body such as the back, shoulders or buttocks;
- An injury that is not consistent with the account given;
- Changing or different accounts of how an injury occurred;
- Bald patches;
- Symptoms of drug or alcohol intoxication or poisoning;
- Unaccountable covering of limbs, even in hot weather;
- Fear of going home or parents being contacted;
- Fear of medical help;
- Inexplicable fear of adults or over-compliance;
- Violence or aggression towards others including bullying; or
- Isolation from peers.

4. Sexual Abuse

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not they are aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

The following may be indicators of sexual abuse (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- Sexually explicit play or behaviour or age-inappropriate knowledge;
- Anal or vaginal discharge, soreness or scratching;
- Reluctance to go home;
- Inability to concentrate, tiredness;
- Refusal to communicate;
- Thrush, persistent complaints of stomach disorders or pains;
- Eating disorders, for example anorexia nervosa and bulimia;
- Attention seeking behaviour, self-mutilation, substance abuse;
- Aggressive behaviour including sexual harassment or molestation;
- Unusual compliance;
- Regressive behaviour, enuresis, soiling;
- Frequent or open masturbation, touching others inappropriately;
- Depression, withdrawal, isolation from peer group;
- Bruises or scratches in the genital area.

5. Sexual Exploitation

Sexual exploitation occurs when a child or young person, or another person, receives “something” (for example food, accommodation, drugs, alcohol, cigarettes, affection, gifts, money) as a result of them performing sexual activities, or another person performing sexual activities on them.

The presence of any significant indicator for sexual exploitation should trigger a referral to children’s services. The significant indicators are:

- Having a relationship of concern with a controlling adult or young person (this may involve physical and/or emotional abuse and/or gang activity);
- Entering and/or leaving vehicles driven by unknown adults;
- Possessing unexplained amounts of money, expensive clothes or other items;
- Frequenting areas known for risky activities;
- Being groomed or abused via the Internet and mobile technology;
- Having unexplained contact with hotels, taxi companies or fast food outlets.

6. Emotional Abuse

Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child or vulnerable adult such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the emotional development or wellbeing. It may involve conveying to person that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the vulnerable child or adult the opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on the person. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing a person participating in normal social interaction. It may also involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another person. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing a child or vulnerable adult to frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of a vulnerable individual. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment.

The following may be indicators of emotional abuse (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- The child or vulnerable adult consistently describes him/herself in very negative ways –as stupid, naughty, hopeless, ugly;
- Over-reaction to mistakes;
- Delayed physical, mental or emotional development;
- Sudden speech or sensory disorders;
- Inappropriate emotional responses, fantasies;
- Neurotic behaviour: rocking, banging head, regression, tics and twitches;
- Self-harming, drug or solvent abuse;

- Fear of parents or other family members being contacted;
- Running away;
- Compulsive stealing;
- Appetite disorders - anorexia nervosa, bulimia;
- Soiling, smearing faeces, enuresis.

N.B. Some situations where children stop communication suddenly (known as “traumatic mutism”) can indicate maltreatment.

7. Unusual Responses from Parents

Research and experience indicates that the following responses from parents may suggest a cause for concern across all four categories:

- Delay in seeking treatment that is obviously needed;
- Unawareness or denial of any injury, pain or loss of function (for example, a fractured limb);
- Incompatible explanations offered, several different explanations or the child is said to have acted in a way that is inappropriate to her/his age and development;
- Reluctance to give information or failure to mention other known relevant injuries;
- Frequent presentation of minor injuries;
- A persistently negative attitude towards the child;
- Unrealistic expectations or constant complaints about the child;
- Alcohol misuse or other drug/substance misuse;
- Parents request removal of the child from home; or
- Violence between adults in the household.

8. Individuals with Disabilities

When working with children with disabilities, practitioners need to be aware that additional possible indicators of abuse and/or neglect may also include:

- A bruise in a site that might not be of concern on an ambulant child such as the shin, might be of concern on a non-mobile child;
- Not getting enough help with feeding leading to malnourishment;
- Poor toileting arrangements;
- Lack of stimulation;
- Unjustified and/or excessive use of restraint;
- Rough handling, extreme behaviour modification such as deprivation of medication, food or clothing, disabling wheelchair batteries;
- Unwillingness to try to learn a child’s means of communication;
- Ill-fitting equipment. for example callipers, sleep boards, inappropriate splinting;
- Misappropriation of a child’s finances; or
- Inappropriate invasive procedures

Appendix Two: Dealing with a Disclosure of Trauma or Abuse

When a refugee tells you about the stress or trauma s/he is feeling or abuse s/he has suffered, you must remember (particularly if you are the DSL):

- Stay calm.
- Do not communicate shock, anger or embarrassment.
- Offer reassurance. Tell her/him you are pleased that s/he is speaking to you.
- Tell her/him that you believe them. S/he may have tried to tell others and not been heard or believed.
- Tell s/he it is not her/his fault.
- Encourage s/he to talk but do not ask "leading questions" or press for information.
- Listen and remember.
- Check that you have understood correctly what s/he is trying to tell you. (You may need to get advice from the interpreter you are using where interpretation is necessary)
- Communicate that s/he was right to tell you and right to be safe and protected.
- It is inappropriate to make any comments about the alleged offender.
- Be aware that the individual, particularly a child, may retract what s/he has told you. It is essential to record all you have heard.
- At the end of the conversation, tell the individual again who you are going to tell and why that person or those people need to know.
- As soon as you can afterwards, make a detailed record of the conversation using the phrases s/he used as far as possible. Include any questions you may have asked. Do not add any opinions or interpretations.

Even if you think the issue is minor, the DSL or others in the group may have more information that, together with what you know, represents a more serious worry. It is never your decision alone how to respond to concerns – but it is always your responsibility to share concerns, no matter how small.

- Decide whether you need to find out more by asking the child / young person, or their parent to clarify your concerns, being careful to use open questions: ...beginning with words like: 'how', 'why', 'where', 'when', 'who'?
- Let the child / young person / parent know what you plan to do next if you have heard a disclosure of abuse or you are talking with them about your concerns. Do not promise to keep what s/he tells you secret. ...for example, 'I am worried about your bruise and I need to tell person x so that s/he can help us think about how to keep you safe'
- Inform the DSL immediately. If the DSL is not available or you are the DSL, speak to a senior person in the group. If there is no other member of staff available, you must make the referral yourself.

- Make a written record as soon as possible after the event, noting:
 - Name of person
 - Date, time and place
 - Who else was present
 - What was said / What happened / What you noticed ie speech, behaviour, mood, drawings, games or appearance
 - If child, vulnerable person or parent spoke, record their words rather than your interpretation
 - Analysis of what you observed & why it is a cause for concern

The DSL makes the referral to the First Response Service – such as the local authority or police. The referral will note all previous intervention by the group with the child or vulnerable adult, any relevant history relating to the them, their siblings or the family.

The DSL shares information with relevant professionals, recording reasons for sharing information and ensuring that they are aware of what action the other professionals will take as a result of information shared.

(If a child is involved) The DSL informs parent that they have made a CP referral, if the parent does not already know, and if there is no reason not to let them know the First Response Service may suggest to delay informing the parent in cases of suspected sexual abuse, or where informing the parent might put the child at further risk, to prevent the child being harmed or intimidated (and retracting their disclosure) or in cases of suspected Fabricated or Induced Illness by proxy, the parent is not informed that this is being considered.

The DSL remains in close communication with professionals around the child / young person/vulnerable adult and with the family, in order to share any updates about the child / young person/vulnerable adult.

The next page includes a Group Welfare Concern Form members of the group can use to record concerns

Use this form to record any concern about an individual's welfare and give it to DSL in your group.

If you suspect a child may be suffering abuse or neglect, or you have received a disclosure of abuse from a child, or you have heard about an allegation of abuse, you must complete the child protection record of concern form instead, and hand it to DSL immediately today.

Appendix Three: Allegations about a Volunteer

1. Inappropriate behaviour by volunteers could take the following forms:
 - Physical; For example, the intentional use of force as a punishment, slapping, use of objects to hit with, throwing objects or rough physical handling.
 - Emotional; For example, intimidation, belittling, scapegoating, sarcasm, lack of respect for children's rights, and attitudes that discriminate on the grounds of race, gender, disability or sexuality.
 - Sexual; For example, sexualised behaviour towards pupils, sexual harassment, sexual assault and rape.
 - Neglect; For example, failing to act to protect a child or vulnerable adult, failing to seek medical attention or failure to carry out an appropriate risk assessment.

2. If a person makes an allegation about a volunteer the chair or other person on the core group of the sponsorship group should be informed immediately. The core group should carry out an urgent initial consideration in order to establish whether there is substance to the allegation. The core group should not carry out the investigation itself or interview the accuser/s

3. The core group must exercise, and be accountable for, their judgement on the action to be taken, as follows:
 - If the actions of the volunteer and the consequences of the actions, raise credible child protection or other safeguarding concerns the core group will notify the Local Authority Team. The local authority will advise about action to be taken
 - If the actions of the volunteer and the consequences of the actions, do not raise credible child protection concerns, but do raise other issues in relation to the conduct of the volunteer these should be addressed through the group's own internal processes.
 - If the Executive Director decides that the allegation is without foundation and no further formal action is necessary, all those involved should be informed of this conclusion, and the reasons for the decision should be recorded.

Appendix Four: Indicators of Vulnerability to Radicalisation

1. Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism.
2. Extremism is defined by the Government in the Prevent Strategy as: Vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.
3. Extremism is defined by the Crown Prosecution Service as the demonstration of unacceptable behaviour by using any means or medium to express views which:
 - Encourage, justify or glorify terrorist violence in furtherance of particular beliefs;
 - Seek to provoke others to terrorist acts;
 - Encourage other serious criminal activity or seek to provoke others to serious criminal acts; or
 - Foster hatred which might lead to inter-community violence in the UK.
4. There is no such thing as a “typical extremist”: those who become involved in extremist actions come from a range of backgrounds and experiences, and most individuals, even those who hold radical views, do not become involved in violent extremist activity.
5. People may become susceptible to radicalisation through a range of social, personal and environmental factors - it is known that violent extremists exploit vulnerabilities in individuals to drive a wedge between them and their families and communities. It is vital that organization’s staff are able to recognise those vulnerabilities.
6. Indicators of vulnerability include:
 - Identity Crisis – the person is distanced from their cultural / religious heritage and experiences discomfort about their place in society;
 - Personal Crisis – the person may be experiencing family tensions; a sense of isolation; and low self-esteem; they may have dissociated from their existing friendship group and become involved with a new and different group of friends; they may be searching for answers to questions about identity, faith and belonging;
 - Personal Circumstances – local community tensions; and events affecting the young person’s country or region of origin may contribute to a sense of grievance that is triggered by personal experience of racism or discrimination or aspects of Government policy;
 - Unmet Aspirations – the person may have perceptions of injustice; a feeling of failure; rejection of civic life;

- Need – the young person may experience difficulties with social interaction, empathy with others, understanding the consequences of their actions and awareness of the motivations of others.

However, this list is not exhaustive, nor does it mean that all young people experiencing the above are at risk of radicalisation for the purposes of violent extremism.

8. More critical risk factors could include:

- Being in contact with extremist recruiters;
- Accessing violent extremist websites, especially those with a social networking element;
- Possessing or accessing violent extremist literature;
- Using extremist narratives and a global ideology to explain personal disadvantage;
- Justifying the use of violence to solve societal issues;
- Joining or seeking to join extremist organisations;
- Significant changes to appearance and / or behaviour;
- Experiencing a high level of social isolation resulting in issues of identity crisis and / or personal crisis.

Appendix Five: Preventing Violent Extremism

The DSL INSERT NAME OF RELEVANT INDIVIDUAL of INSERT GROUP NAME is responsible for:

- Ensuring the members of the group are aware that s/he is the lead in relation to protecting members of the sponsored family from radicalisation and involvement in terrorism;
- Maintaining and applying a good understanding of the relevant guidance in relation to preventing members of the sponsored family from becoming involved in terrorism, and protecting them from radicalisation by those who support terrorism or forms of extremism which lead to terrorism;
- Raising awareness within the group about the safeguarding processes relating to protecting people from radicalisation and involvement in terrorism;
- Acting as the first point of contact between the group and outside agencies if there are any signs that a person may be at risk of radicalisation or involved in terrorism;
