Thank you to our members, donors, and sponsors for your support this year!

We are delighted to share some of the highlights from the advocacy work you’ve made possible on campuses, in communities, and on Capitol Hill. We look forward to building on these successes in 2022!

Mobilizing Advocates and Allies on Capitol Hill

- Advocates from 50 states and D.C. took 223 meetings at our 2021 Virtual Humanities Advocacy Day

- Launched inaugural Dear Colleague Letter urging funding increase for the National Archives

- Secured $135 million in COVID-19 relief funding for humanities organizations and departments

Documenting the Impact of Federal Funding for the Humanities

4,492 NEH CARES funding recipients mapped

“Listening and appreciating the full breadth of all our stories not only helps to foster a better listening culture, but also the interaction that creates the conditions for peace and dialogue to flourish. NEH funding over the past few years has helped us to scale up this work to more communities.”

—KIRAN SINGH SIRAH, PRESIDENT, INTERNATIONAL STORYTELLING CENTER, AT AN NHA-HOSTED CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFING
Supporting Faculty and Administrators in Recruiting Students to the Humanities

Released Strategies for Recruiting Students to the Humanities, which documents over 100 effective approaches for recruiting students to the humanities.

- Garnered coverage by Inside Higher Ed
- Reached more than 10,000 faculty and administrators across the country
- Over 700 attended a webinar series based on the report

"""
We found [SRSH] exceptionally useful because it offers—in a pithy, concrete, and clearly organized way—a range of strategies employed by departments and programs around the country.
—SETH MOGLEN, PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH, LEHIGH UNIVERSITY
"""

Fostering Public Engagement in Higher Ed

- Surpassed 2,000 publicly engaged projects on Humanities for All; added hundreds of new projects that help the humanities community address our most pressing challenges
- Over 27,000 engagements with HumanitiesforAll.org, including over 13,000 new users
- 21 contributor posts featured on the Humanities for All blog

"""
In the reading course for student fellows in the Public Research Fellowship program, we’ve drawn on many of the resources on the fantastic Humanities for All site—it’s such a rich set of projects and has helped our students imagine what’s possible in their own work.
—JENNIFER MCDANELD, UNIVERSITY OF PORTLAND, CO-DIRECTOR OF THE PUBLIC RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS PROGRAM
"""
Partnering Nationwide to Document the Impact of the Humanities

31 partnerships with colleges and universities to document the impact of humanities courses and programs

21 partnerships with local museums, libraries, archives, and historic sites to document the public impact of the humanities

Creating a National Network of Humanities Advocates

Increased NHA membership to a total of 243 members representing 46 states and D.C.

363 attendees at the NHA Virtual Annual Meeting in March

813 attendees at the Virtual National Humanities Conference in November

Documenting the Comprehensive Impact of the Humanities in Three Communities

- Launched case studies in three sites: Nogales, Arizona; Rapid City, South Dakota; and Charleston, South Carolina
- Conducted more than 80 interviews across the sites

Welcomed 35 New Members:

- Baylor University
- Bowdoin College
- Carnegie Mellon University
- Chadron State College
- City College of New York
- Colby College
- Consortium of Humanities Centers and Institutes
- Council of State Archivists
- Cuyahoga Community College
- Davidson College
- Florida International University
- Florida State University
- Franklin College
- Harrison College
- Hiram College
- Howard University
- Lindenwood University
- Longwood University
- Montclair State University
- Rochester Institute of Technology
- Simmons University
- St. Edward’s University
- University of Nebraska Omaha
- University of California, Riverside
- University of Lynchburg
- University of Massachusetts, Boston
- University of North Dakota
- University of South Carolina, Humanities Collaborative
- Ursuline College
- Vanguard University
- Villanova University
- Virginia Tech
- Wayne State University
- West Chester University
- Willa Cather Foundation