

Humanities Majors are Employed at Rates Comparable to Other Majors

Respondents to the 2018 American Community Survey indicated that humanities graduates have similar employment rates as graduates from other areas, such as math, the sciences, and engineering.

The reported unemployment rate for all degree holders was 2.17% and 2.13% for humanities degree holders.

2.13%

unemployment rate for humanities majors

Source: 2018 American Community Survey

Unemployment rates for humanities graduates are similar to other majors

Humanities graduates are employed at similar rates to other majors

Humanities majors are employed in a wide variety of occupations

National Humanities Alliance

www.nhalliance.org