

Post Mid-Term Election Analyses with the Pros

The mid-term elections have profoundly impacted most Americans. Many, who otherwise were passive about politics became activated and involved with campaigns, voter initiatives, and advocacy. Three pros, Never Trump Republican, a prominent Democratic advisor, and a former Republican Bergen County Executive will share their perspectives on the election results. The issues, demographics, and anything else that played a significant role in the election outcomes will make for a dynamic discussion on what happened and what the future holds. This will be an exciting evening.

Brendan Gill is a Democratic political operative with over 20 years of political campaign management experience. He is recognized as one of the regions most influential and effective political strategists. Gill is also an elected official who currently serves as President of the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

William "Pat" Schuber is an Assistant Professor at the School of Administrative Science, Petrocelli College, Fairleigh Dickinson University. He is a faculty member in the Master of Administrative Science (MAS) and Master of Science in Homeland Security (MSHS). He was a former Bergen County executive.

Alan J. Steinberg served as the Regional Administrator for the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Region 2 from September 7, 2005, until January 20, 2009, under the administration of former President George W. Bush. Region 2 EPA serves New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and eight federally recognized Indian nations. He is now a columnist for New Jersey's leading political website, InsiderNJ.com.
