

Let's Talk: How Trump is Impacting America

David Cay Johnston's latest book "It's Even Worse Than You Think- What the Trump Administration is Doing to America" provides hard facts on what is occurring in the Trump Administration that impacts important issues such as money influence, "swamp draining", climate policy, kleptocracy, rule of law, health care, jobs and more. But one of the key issues Johnston discusses relevant for us in NJ and most Americans is TAXES- its impact on the Middle Class and income inequality.

Johnston will share his unique insights based on long experience and knowledge of Donald Trump. He will take us inside the Trump Administration and unlock its agenda and what it means for our future.

David Cay Johnston is a Pulitzer Prize-winning investigative reporter and former president of Investigative Reporters & Editors (IRE). He teaches at Syracuse University College of Law and is familiar to many as a frequent guest on MSNBC, CNN, BBC, NPR, and other shows and served as consultant for the Netflix series "House of Cards."

Johnston has lectured on economics, journalism and tax policy on every continent except Antarctica. He is the best-selling author of numerous books including "The Making of Donald Trump."

Johnston's current book will be available for purchase and signing opportunity.
