To The Honorable Enrique Peña Nieto
President of the Federal Republic of Mexico

The state of New Mexico has a long and fruitful relationship with both the government and the people of the nation of Mexico. We share a common culture, our economies are interconnected and many of Mexico's youngest and brightest attend our educational institutions.

We here in the New Mexico State House of Representatives understand that our futures are intertwined and know when the people of Mexico thrive, we do as well. As our communities grow and succeed, the benefits extend across the border uplifting both our peoples.

Therefore, we invite you to speak at the New Mexico House of Representatives about our common bonds, cultures, and the benefits of a shared future together. The legislature convenes until March 18, 2017 at the New State Capitol in Santa Fe. Your attendance would be a small step towards a world where people treat each other with respect, dignity and compassion.

Sincerely,
