

A Community Conversation

Can We House Glastonbury's Future?

The future of housing in Glastonbury and across the state must necessarily reflect changing demographics. These include a growing senior population with an interest in downsizing, millennials looking for more affordable housing options, and a more diverse workforce in need of housing across a continuum of affordability. This session will explore how housing could be shaped in Glastonbury to respond to all of these needs and ensure that Glastonbury is a vibrant place to live and work for years to come.

March 30, 2016 from 7-9 pm
Riverfront Community Center
300 Welles Street, Glastonbury

Sponsored by

501 (c) (3)

In collaboration with

The event is free and open to the public

For further information: 860-918-0209 or 202-538-1161

Using Dr. King's philosophy and principles to build an inclusive community