

Strategic Financial Research Team

Purpose

The Strategic Financial Research team will work to collect and analyze financial data on the district (from both budgets and audits) to help support our bargaining efforts.

This team will collect and analyze relevant financial data to develop a sound understanding of district spending and financial position, to support our proposals, and to identify points of economic leverage that we can use to pressure the district to agree to our proposals.

Role & Responsibilities

- Plan external strategies in coordination with other teams at PAT.
- Help read Department of Education and PPS income documents.
- Collect and analyze data to predict the amount of money the district will have to spend in the current negotiations.
- Collect and analyze data to track unexpected changes in district revenue.
- Collect and analyze data on administration salaries and contracts to contrast with how they could be spending money on educators and direct benefits to our classrooms.
- Provide supporting data and talking points on district finances to the bargaining team, communications team, and internal and external teams as needed.
