

Photography has long been an essential tool for protecting our natural environment.

Images of environmental devastation arouse public anger, while photos of adorable or amazing native creatures inspire us to protect their habitat.

That's why Queensland Conservation Council is launching Queensland's Natural Wonders Photography Awards, to recognise and celebrate the power of images - and the importance of photographers - in protecting our natural world.

Judging of Entries and Award of Prizes

1. Each valid Entry received will be submitted for judging. Entries will be judged by a panel of judges appointed by the Organiser.
2. The judges may not select images if they suspect that the Entrant has engaged in any unethical practice in connection with the Entry.
3. The Organiser reserves the right to verify the authenticity of Entries and compliance with the Competition rules and any additional requirements published on the Competition website. The Entrant must respond to any request for further information within 1 week. If the Entrant fails to provide evidence or the Organiser determines, in its sole discretion, that there is insufficient evidence to confirm that the Entry complies with the Competition rules and any additional requirements published on the Competition website, then the Entry will be removed from the Competition and no further correspondence will be entered into.

4. All images will be judged on technical aspects such as exposure, composition, cropping, color, as well as content, influence and uniqueness.
5. The jury's decisions are final.
6. All prizes must be taken as offered. Any non-monetary prize, or any unused portion of a non-monetary prize, is not transferable, exchangeable and cannot be redeemed as cash.

People's Choice Award

Entries to the Competition will be posted on the Queensland Conservation Council website. The entries will be subject to a public vote to determine the People's Choice Award winner, as set out below. On close of the public voting, the panel will collate the results. The applicant who has the highest number of public votes will win the People's Choice Award.

For the People's Choice Award, all entries will be posted on the QCC website for a public vote, as follows:

1. The period for public vote will be from 22 May to 29 May 2020.
2. The public vote is available to any person who registers an account on the QCC website.
3. There is one vote for each registered account on the QCC website.
4. Registered voters will be asked to assess each photo against the assessment criteria and other entries, and vote for the photo that, in their view, has the most merit.
